

Beyond the Universe II

Nebadon and the Revelations of the 'Lucifer Rebellion'

"Have the courage to use your own mind!"

-Immanuel Kant

Dr. Qmara

INTRODUCTION:

Most of the messages and texts used in this eBook come from the documentation of a dramatic detective process in 2013 by staff of www.en.christ-michael.net about the world beyond our physical perception in Nebadon and the superuniverses. (Documentation: "Beyond")

It reveals some spectacular answers, some of which contradict previous official statements, e. g. in the Urantia Book.

The events mark a milestone in the evolution of our universe.

Received/channeled are most of the messages "mentally/telepathically" through Eve Kumara from higher universal beings.

With the release of this adapted and expanded version, the greatest honor and gratitude is due to Eve Kumara and her team and all helping hands here and beyond our plane of existence who are preparing and implementing the transition. Without their work and help, none of this would be possible.

It is also recommended to read the eBooks "Beyond the Universe - The Liberation of Urantia" and "ESU JESUS SANANDA SPEAKS - TRANSITION INSTRUCTION", as well as the Phoenix Journals. These eBooks can be found at www.beyondthetmatrix.io along with other interesting topics and matching groups, forums and blogs.

For the necessary foundational knowledge, the glossary can be read before reading this eBook (here).

Expanding the horizon

Sometimes you need to change the algebraic signs to get a full picture

There is no coincidence. If you were led here to read this material, take this as a chance to gain a wider horizon and to make up your mind. But be aware that it's your very own decision to read or not to read.

Seek to rest in balance and peace while reading and make sure that you are aligned with Christ Michael.

We strongly recommend you to

NOT SIMPLY BUY THIS BECAUSE IT'S WRITTEN HERE, BUT RATHER TO ASK FOR CONFIRMATION
DIRECTLY WITH CHRIST MICHAEL, THROUGH YOUR OWN CONTACT.

We thank you in advance for reading carefully and taking these revealings into serious consideration.

Please take this poem from CM into your heart:

The lighthouse keeper's dream

Poem by CM, Summer 2012

Will you share with me the lighthouse keeper's dream as a guardian of the circling beam travelling through the darkness...

will you share with me the giant view across the sea
while we send out the signals for a safe passage?

Home is where the heart is...
and is your heart with me?
I'm going to send these beams
eternally.

Will you share with me
sunssets of fluent gold will you share with me stories of truth to be told...

Will you share with me my dream to be a human lighthouse
in a world that represents the dream of God
... to manifest a paradise – matter divine...

then go ahead and lift yourselves to home...
to where the heart is... and is your heart with me?
I'm going to send these beams...
eternally.

INTRODUCTION BY CHRIST MICHAEL

Currently there is just a handful of people, perhaps a few more, who have found correct answers to questions asked many times by all readers who became witnesses of announcements finally not taking place.

These people have succeeded to do their homework, they allowed to let themselves be guided to the right sources making them able to draw adequate conclusions.

As above so below, and as below, so above.

There are some things which need to be revealed by YOU to be confirmed by US. Arriving at the results presented here I must point out that we did not simply tell the writers about the facts. We let them do the calculus and when they came back to us with the results – we stocked up on this foundation.

To publish these things now is no process which might result in receiving flower bouquets. Every participant incarnate is aware about the fact that it's more a shit-job than anything else, that no honour can be expected in general, but rather fingerpointing and blaming and finally ruining any leftover of reputation.

BUT IN FULL COMMITMENT TO THE WILL OF THE ETERNAL FATHER, called PAPA SOURCE, THERE IS NO OTHER CHOICE THAN DOING SO.

The results presented are evidence that it is POSSIBLE – even for agondonters – to look behind the scenes – even on a formerly quarantined planet of matter – even in density.

They are

that my creation is a workable creation in honour to the Eternal Father.

THERE MUST BE CHANGE

THERE WILL BE CHANGE

CHANGE HAS STARTED ALREADY.

BE WISE TO LET YOURSELVES BECOME

A SUPPORTIVE PART OF IT.

THERE IS NO SHORTCUT
AND ALL ROADS LEAD TO AND END WITH PAPA SOURCE IN PARADISE.

BLESSINGS AND SALU

CHRIST MICHAEL ATON OF NEBADON

INTRODUCTION BY EVE

I cannot truly state that it's a pleasure for me doing this hot job.

But in full commitment to the will of the Eternal Father and Christ Michael Aton as creator of our universe I have no other choice than doing so.

All of us involved ones have had hard times moving through red alert bullshit-detector regions of sorts, and of course were at first doubting ourselves in respect of perhaps having been taken over by dark forces.

We have found out things independently from each other just to realize at the end that our results match in a stunning way.

We have even experienced a similar scenario on our planetary plane – which seemed to be like a „mirror effect“ from what's going on in the universal spheres. As far as I'm involved I'm revealing some of my private journal excerpts, which I have been taking over a longer period of time.

Now it seems reasonable that any solution to this scenario above is connected with our planetary affairs and perhaps it's even so that sustainable solutions affecting thoroughly any core involvement of the process – MUST start down here – at a place in the peripherals of the 7th Superuniverse of Orvonton, – so that they will see their victory when hitting the very origin of the mess. Integrity is of essential importance.

This seems to be about all or nothing.

I confidentially vote for ALL,

as I believe in love,

I believe in the victory of truth and light and I believe and have faith in our dear creator son

Christ Michael.

I AM THAT I AM

Eve

1. Excerpt from “Beyond the Universe - The Liberation of Urantia“

1.1 God and our existence explained

What is God? What we perceive as God can be explained as a universal consciousness. This universal consciousness "contains and processes" all information, to an infinite extent. Our human consciousness for example processes all information, which we as humans perceive through our senses and feelings. Through our sense of sight, sense of taste, sense of hearing and so on. This universal consciousness, on the other hand, "processes" the information "generated" through our observing and interacting with the universe, - and is also the reason for our universe. The universal consciousness has to experience itself, in order to be able to further unfold and this happens through souls/entities, which are part of the universal consciousness/God. Our consciousness is also such a part of the u. c. Souls/entities/higher beings gather experiences in the higher planes of existence and in our plane of existence. When one as a soul mastered all the experiences and teachings in one plane of existence, the consciousness ascends to the higher planes to make experiences there.

Our higher self is the total of all experiences that our consciousness has experienced in its "human lives". The higher self puts a part of itself into our plane of existence, which is a "simulation" created by God/universal consciousness. Here one makes experiences as a human being and generally as a living being. After "thousands" of lives as a human being one has reached and mastered all experiences in this plane of existence and ascends to the higher planes where we then have the perception of our higher self. This principle can be transferred to every plane of existence, also to the last plane of existence, which is the perception of the whole universal consciousness/God. This means that the universal consciousness/God structured the planes of existence in such a way that it gave parts of itself into the previous plane of existence, in order not to have experiences there with the all-encompassing perception. These parts of the universal consciousness gave again parts of itself into the next lower plane, in order to make experiences there with an even less all-encompassing perception. This can also be transferred to our plane of existence, because through our senses in this 3-dimensional plane of existence experiences can be made with much less all-encompassing perception. The planes of existence are structured in such a way that the u.c./God can put a small part of itself into the planes, which make experiences and ascend in the perception. Finally, one reaches the perception of the u.c./God and contributes to the constantly unfolding of the u.c./God. These parts of the universal consciousness/God in the different planes of existence are called souls/entities/higher beings. Furthermore, there are potentially infinitely many versions of our plane of existence, since this plane/planet is a very dense plane of existence encapsulated from the rest, a "simulation" if you like, created by the universal consciousness/God. Further worlds in the different planes can be similar to ours but can also be unimaginably different to ours.

If you are not in such a plane of existence as ours as a soul, you are in the higher planes. In these realities there is not the concept of time, space, and matter as there is in our plane of existence/reality. There one can exist "infinitely in peace and love". With these preconditions, however, one cannot feel everything, experience and gather experiences in all areas, which is made possible by our human life in this plane of existence. In order for our souls to make these experiences, which we make in this plane of existence, every soul possesses free will. Moreover, this plane is encapsulated from the rest (in quarantine), whereby one knows nothing of before/beyond, thus nothing of the higher planes of existence and the true origin of one's existence. One cannot find our origin in the outside of the world, no matter how much one searches for it. One can find our origin only in oneself, what the ancient civilizations knew and accordingly to it lived.

Karma is thereby the law, under which we further evolve. The laws of karma causes, among other things, that every deed, which is done by someone, will come back sooner or later. If a person for example kills another person, sooner or later he will also undergo this experience. This however can take place after several lives, since someone experiences such an experience only if he is ready for it as a soul. This also applies to positive deeds. If a someone does something good for another person, then sooner or later it will come back. As a young soul, one incarnates as a human being into this plane of existence and begins to gain experience. In the beginning, as a soul in a human being, one has less attention towards God than a more experienced soul has. The more experienced one is as a soul, the more one is connected to one's higher self. In the process, one's karma continues to be reduced until, after "thousands" of lives, one has cleared all of one's karma. Then one is freed from the chains of the many incarnations and can now evolve further in the higher planes of existence. Thus, our human concept of death is distorted. Death is the transition from the human experience back to the higher planes of existence.

The soul is part of our higher self, with which we are always connected through our universe. In the pineal gland (third eye) DMT can be released, which is one of the most powerful psychedelic substances. Large amounts of DMT are released during birth, death and sleep, which explains near-death experiences. In these, people report how they ascended to this higher plane of existence. Many had the experience of feeling as if they had always been there. People also often had contact with known souls and God.

DMT is found in many animals and plants and can thus be extracted and e.g. be ingested/vaporized. By doing this, people can often reach the higher planes of existence and report an extremely peaceful and loving feeling. They perceive a more realistic reality than our human reality is. Many also make contact with other souls and entities and can often communicate with them psychically. They are often given wisdom and shown certain things that help one as a human being. Back in human experience, it is an unimaginable experience for anyone. This experience through DMT lasts in human time about 10-15 min, but the experience for the people themselves felt like many hours and often days, because they were in the higher planes of existence, where there is not something like the time like in our plane of existence. As soon as the people come back from the higher planes to the human plane, the experience is often already forgotten for the most part, as it is also often the case with dreams. Dreaming can be explained by the fact that small amounts of DMT are released during sleep, and thus one reaches the higher planes, perhaps to be able to process the information of the soul there. As soon as one wakes up, the sleep duration feels relatively short, which is due to the fact that one was in the higher planes of existence. However, one cannot remember after waking up because this would influence the experiences of one.

When meditating, one is in a state between sleep and being awake. This state can be enough to release DMT and bring you closer to your higher self and generally closer to the higher planes of existence, which leads to psychic experiences and can help you a lot in life.

Many previous civilizations practiced such methods as meditating or similar, but also the use of psychedelic substances such as DMT, mushrooms, etc. became known to people early on. In the past, people also used to have a larger and more active pineal gland (third eye), which has receded with time and our consumption.

Because of all this, people in the past also had experiences in the higher planes of existence, much more often than we do today, because the knowledge about it was simply "lost" over time. These experiences led among other things to the practice of religions. What today's monotheistic religions mean with the only true God is the universal consciousness/God himself. What today's polytheistic religions mean with the many gods, are the many different higher beings, which were perceived in the higher planes of existence and are part of the universal consciousness/God. Thus, the polytheistic religions are right that there are many beings in the higher planes of existence of different "power/wisdom/completeness", which are part of God, and thus are God themselves. But since every entity, every soul, simply everything that exists part of the universal consciousness is and therefore God itself is, only one true God can exist, which is why the monotheistic religions are also right.

Basically, every religion describes these higher planes of existence with its higher beings and the divine source, the universal consciousness, but put under the respective religious banner. These religious banners have been increasingly manipulated and distorted over time to distract people from the true nature of our existence. Now is the time to unite the religions and dissolve the manipulated and distorted banners so that everyone can once again continue to live in harmony with the true nature of our existence.

Before people began to study and observe the universe with measuring instruments, etc., they were much more focused on the inner life. One looked for the reason for life in the inner. When people began to examine the universe and to observe it more closely, and one looked for the reason for life in the outside, the connection to the higher self weakened for many people. As a result, there was a phase until now in which the connection to the higher self was and still is very weak for many people. Since we humans focused on the outside of life, however, there was also a phase in which the "knowledge level" of the outside increased, and thus the information around us.

In the course of human history there were souls in human form, which are known to us as Jesus, Buddha, Babaji and many others. These are also called Ascended Masters, because they already have mastered their experiences on this plane of existence and are now evolving in the higher levels. However, they have decided to incarnate as human beings again in order to help humanity and to guide the further development of humanity. For this reason, they were also very strongly connected with their higher self and were therefore also accordingly wise and had abilities that we would describe as supernatural.

Throughout life, our human ego builds up, which is the attitude towards life based on each person's experiences. Also, the individual perception of the world is due to the ego deep in each person's subconscious. As a child, the human ego is not yet very advanced, which is why children still have a stronger connection to the higher self, which also explains children's understanding of justice. With the school the human ego begins to develop subordinated to the system (matrix). Among other things, it is pretended that the typical life-long work with a few weeks of vacation per year is the normal way to live out one's life. Social media also dictates how young people and society in general should behave and what they should support. The system imposes filters on people's ego, through which one is only really happy and truly alive when one has achieved the lifestyle and goals dictated by the filter. Someone who has this layer of the filter very strong, and through his work life does not achieve this way of life, will never experience profound satisfaction and profound happiness in the course of his life. These filters in the ego also dictate how one dresses for example and, how and what one consumes. The consumer behavior of people has changed and increased a lot in the last decades, because this consumer behavior is dictated to people by the filters in the ego. Large companies, the film industry, media, but also the pharmaceutical industry and many other industries impose filters on people through social media, through films, through magazines and through much more, through which people perceive certain things as right and good and label other things as wrong and bad. Movies and the like, for example, tell people what the relationship and order between a man and a woman should be.

Because of these filters and the resulting consumption behavior of the people, not much will change in environmental protection. Only when people start to change their consumption behavior and thus work on themselves to reduce or shape the filters, something can be achieved in ENVIRONMENTAL PROTECTION.

These filters in the ego also play a major role in the healing of the human body. When we humans tune in to the fact that the physical condition will get worse or nothing can be done because of a medical diagnosis, that also becomes our reality. This way of thinking becomes anchored in the subconscious mind, attracting one to a path where the reality is that the physical condition will get worse. However, if one would be fully convinced that the physical condition is already better, and one lives and feels as if the condition is already better, then that also becomes the reality. Our consciousness is superior to our body. Because of the filters in the human ego, one individually perceives a world that is the individual reality for one. If someone perceives the world more negatively because of the filters in the ego and the energy centers (chakras) in the body are not in harmony, then this will affect the body on the basis of diseases and can also lead to clumsiness and negative experiences. Thus, the cause of certain diseases can be stopped only when people start to work on their own ego. With medicine, usually only the effect of the diseases can be stopped, not the cause. Also, DMT can be released by the dysfunction of the pineal gland. Thereby, the affected people come closer to the higher planes of existence and the higher self, which, however, cannot be explained by their perception of the world and by their human ego, and thus can also lead to psychological disorders.

Now it only must be explained how this "simulation theory" can be applied to our universe. If we assume that this plane of existence/our observed universe is created by a "simulation", then we know that the big bang is the start of this simulation and therefore the beginning of space, time and matter. We humans and living beings are therefore part of the reason for this simulation. By us observers of the universe the time, space and matter come into existence. Because of our observation everything must be in such a way that it leads to the fact that we humans and living beings can come into existence and observe. Therefore, we also observe and measure a universe in which everything is in such a way that we humans and living beings can exist. We living beings/observers of the universe can observe only one state of the informations. As soon as we incarnate as a human being, we have free will to decide which path of all possibilities one takes, which also thus becomes the reality of each human being. Through this path of all possibilities which everybody chooses, the time originates. It is therefore a sequence of states of the information which becomes our reality and our individual timeline by our decisions and observations.

The simulation is subordinated to a form of energy as a scalar field. This energy contains every possibility and is the basis for everything that exists in the universe. This energy form is, in a way, our idea about the space of the universe. It is the basis of the simulation. Matter, our idea of empty space, simply everything that exists in the universe, consists in its basis exclusively of this previously mentioned energy form. By us observers this energy form adopts different "states" through "vibrations and frequencies in the three-dimensional space". Atoms are, in a way, a composition of this energy form with different properties. However, in our scale and with our senses, we perceive the universe as we perceive it. This all-encompassing form of energy can also be verified experimentally by splitting a photon and separating it spatially. If we impose a property on one half of the photon, the second half instantaneously takes on that property as well, no matter how far they are spatially apart. This confirms that there is a scalar field in the universe which transmits information independently of space and time.

Einstein's theory of relativity describes the influence of the "simulation" which is generated by us observers and leads to the behavior of matter etc. so that everything is in a way that we observers can come into existence and observe. On the other hand, the quantum mechanics describes this energy field with all the possibilities of the universe which adopts a state of information by our observation. Since we humans cannot observe the end of "space", we will observe more and more planets, stars, elementary particles etc. which are basically information and come into existence by our observation, equal to the behavior of the Mandelbrot zoom.

Also, through the development of mankind a very large amount of information is processed and transferred, just think of every different life experience and all the knowledge in the books and heads of the people. Because of us humans information "originates", which is stored/transferred in the energy field around us. Therefore, we also perceive a faster expanding universe around us, which also explains the theory of the dark energy. Since we know that nothing exists by chance in the universe, there must be a special explanation for black holes. What are the characteristics of black holes? They are an accumulation of not imaginable much matter, and therefore an accumulation of not imaginable much information. At the same time a black hole also ends in singularity where there is no space, no time and no matter. Black holes are therefore the interfaces of this 3-dimensional plane of existence to the higher planes of existence where there is no space, no time and no matter like in ours. Through black holes all information of the universe is connected with the higher planes of existence. In addition, we humans and living beings are also constantly connected with our higher self and God through this.

1.2 God, Creation, and the Liberation of our Earth "Urantia" Explained from a Higher Perspective

What is God? Everything that exists, has ever existed, and will ever exist, every possibility of a possibility on an infinite scale, exists as a "scalar energy field" and is the basis of existence. This energy field is alive and also known as the Creation, and alternates between resting phase, in which this living energy field rests, and active phase. In the active phase, the Creation begins to create a "divine matrix" within itself with its infinite potential and possibilities. It builds up a divine construct to experience itself and to "expand". Thereby parts of this living energy are put as consciousness into the different dimensions (planes of existence) to gain experiences and finally to become one with God and the Creation again. For the creation of these dimensions/planes of existence creator sons, also called Michaels, are sent to energetically cultivate "sleeping creation energy". Thereby local universes are created, which develop and finally become one with God and the Creation, whereby the active Creation "expands" until the Creation enters the resting phase again. The Creation is in this way in a constant pulsating between active and resting phase. The "center" of the active Creation and thus also the "center of God" forms the paradise island which is surrounded by the central universe named Havona. This is surrounded again by seven superuniverses, which are surrounded again by numerous local universes and are extended more and more. We are in the local universe Nebadon, which was created by the Creator Son Christ Michael Aton and the Mother Spirit Nebadonia and is part of the superuniverse Orvonton.

As a result of extended parameters during the creation of our local universe and the allowance by interference of higher universal councils, a rebellion could form and spread, which opposed their creator father Christ Michael Aton. These rebels hid in energy distortions of the Creation, which represent the "hell", and emerged after the creation of our local universe, which is a challenge for an inexperienced Creator Son at that time. Lucifer was one of his most capable sons and a very smart one, and he smelled pretty soon what meal was about to be in the pot against his father. So he made a proclamation, – on the sea of glass – which was even reported in the UB, but it was not about doubting GOD, it was about doubting the higher ranks of universal administration – who had pretty much made use of a habit of presenting themselves as identical with the Eternal Father, – which is NOT the case.

But this habit had been impressive to many who were receptive for it, and so it was possible to capture nearly a complete order of sons under a „management“ of phrases and fence sitting non-activity, while backstage triggers were pushed to build a matrix for spreading evil by artificial intelligence and lies which were set up so tricky that they even would infiltrate soul carriers and universal citizens.

Lucifer was the one they blamed everything to – and he was stunned about seeing the spider net being woven around him in no time, and his father hardly being able to help him. So they pulled him at the court, blaming him of all these false indictions, and he would always insist on speaking out his truth against the upper hierarchy.

It's our big hope to make the forces withdraw when the story starts to be told. It was superior to „save“ Lucifer as the most important witness and this is the main pressure factor in the current handling of these events.

Now lower planes of existence such as on our planet Urantia must be liberated and brought back into light and love. Our planet Urantia has been quarantined because of the infiltration of this rebellion, cutting it off from the outer circuits and creating another matrix by these same rebels to keep us humans far away from God. It therefore required an enormous plan by Christ Michael Aton to liberate this planet, which is currently being carried out.

An important part of this plan was also the incarnation of Immanuel, better known as Jesus, who was a double incarnation of the descending Creator Son Christ Michael and the ascending Son of Man Immanuel Sananda. In doing so, they sowed the seeds of light that are growing on earth destined for the end times, and at the same time, this mission represented the final and seventh bestowal of the Creator Son Christ Michael. Thereby he gained complete sovereignty in his local universe.

Now the final end time has come, in which the removal of the asuric matrix and the ascent into the higher planes of existence will take place in our reality.

2. CHRIST IS BACK – Coming out of CM and Esu Anno 2005

Excerpt of „No Other Planet Has Walked Personally with Christ Michael As You Shall Do!“

CM: ... We have not been able to bring you the Second Coming prior to this time, even though Sananda and I have been back here since 1954 planning the event and solving problems. This is because there were not enough of you available yet to draw the light towards you. And by light here, I include knowledge and wisdom. The dark is still the greater force on earth, in the sense of lack of education of her peoples. We are not going to remove people who know not what they do. If we beamed all the dark people out, assuming we could identify them all with great accuracy, we would be removing most of earth's population.

A person, who is messianic in nature, can draw a great amount of light to them. They can convert the dark who are fence sitters, and on occasion even a truly evil person. The Satanic forces of Earth still hold those in organized religion in their hands, and teach that Sananda is the antichrist. They have to have their 7 years of tribulation, while they watch in the sky, and then the real Jesus will come. I think we have had well more than 7 years of tribulation on earth. But this is the belief.

Many of you said, people will wake up, once they realize the benefits, and many will. To some the benefits of NESARA will be money and nothing more. They would then use money for control. This will happen. It will require a huge number of beings of light to attract the light in these uneducated people. You are these light beings, and we are assisting you, and gifting earth in many beautiful ways.

But this is also a time of final reckoning for many, as to whether they ascend with earth or not. Some will chose otherwise. What will happen, with the star peoples here, and your hard work, is that by the date of the Second Coming, slightly more than 2 months away, at the most, is that the light energy will come close to balancing the dark energy, creating a void, or a balancing of the energy of light and dark. We should not plan on coming until we can make this "voiding" or balance occur. We would like to have the leaning towards the light, but we cannot risk the leaning towards the dark, or they win. Simple as that.

It's a Universal law of nature, not a law of rules given. The only reason there would be a short delay in the Second Coming, would be if the leaning were still towards the dark. The date is chosen, but it is a bit flexible, and we could do it earlier, if the void that is needed should happen. Do not confuse this with other teachings of void that you are reading lately. Also ignore the teachings of late that say, we most look in to the future to find the timing of the voidance. We look not into the future in this game we play, we are very much in the now.

Now I will discuss the last issue at hand for myself, and then I give it over to Sananda. We have had some questions, regards who is ATON as Creator God, who am I as Hatonn, and how to compare or describe Creator God, knowing that a Creator Son of God named Christ Michael is at the helm of this Universe of Nebadon.

Well, my people of Nebadon, in a recent message, where I describe myself a bit, I made the statement "When I say I am ATON in my higher self, I am ATON indeed." I hoped to see a few questions, and we got some. ATON is called Creator God, by some. Christ Michael is certainly Creator God of the Universe of Nebadon.

Please put two and two together, my children, ATON and Christ Michael are one and the same. I said I was a Descending Son in that message, and so I AM. My creation was in the Central Universe of Havona.

I AM the Father God of the Universe of Nebadon. I am not a fragment of Michael, I AM Michael. I AM the Christ.

You have read in our messages, that Sananda's visit to Earth 2000 years ago, was a joint incarnation of Christ Michael, and Esu Immanuel. You, through your church teachings, who have had this learning, believe in the return of the actual Christ, and SO IT IS. I am in command of Earth Project Transition, because it is my project, as Master Creator Son of Nebadon. Those of you reading Urantia have understood that someday, Michael would personally return to Earth, and IT IS SO. I command the Pleiadian Sector Flight Command at this time.

I told you in that earlier message, I am a large Grey, using a body designed by Universal scientists and THIS IS SO. It is a body type that allows me to walk the Earth. I chose to use the long loved name of ATON on earth, for this mission. I needed a bit of a disguise, for a period of time. Now that the Second Coming event is so close, it is time to come out of disguise.

You have on Earth both returning Sons of God, the Descending Son (Son of God, Christ Michael) and the Ascending Son. (Son of Man, Sananda) BLESSED ARE YOU. This is why the Second Coming event will be sacred and not a war type event. You were blessed with my appearance 2000 years ago, and now you are twice blessed with my promised return. I have visited no other planet in my vast realm, in this manner.

I AM COME, TO REMOVE THE ADVERSARY OF MY DOMAIN, AND IT SHALL BE DONE. EARTH SHALL BE HEALED AND OF THE LIGHTED REALMS ONCE AGAIN. I AM CHRIST MICHAEL OF NEBADON, AND I PERSONALLY LOVE THIS LITTLE PLANET AND HER PEOPLE AND I WILL HOLD ALL OF YOU AGAIN IN MY ARMS.

I TAKE THIS OPPORTUNITY TO THANK ALL OF YOU FROM THE STARS FOR YOUR TIME SPENT AND YET TO BE SPENT WITH EARTH AS SHE GROWS UP. I THANK ALL THE EARTH SOULS, FOR PREPARING MY WAY. YOU HAVE BEEN SOME OF YOU HERE FOR THOUSANDS OF YEARS, WORKING THE PLANET FROM THE INSIDE, TO PREPARE MY WAY. I THANK THE COUNTLESS CHRISTED BEINGS WHO HAVE PREPARED MY WAY. I STAND IN AWE OF YOU ALL.

WE WILL SHORTLY WALK TOGETHER, JOIN HANDS TOGETHER, AND HEAL THIS WORLD TOGETHER. I WILL BE HERE A LONG AS IT IS NECESSARY TO BE HERE.

NO OTHER PLANET HAS WALKED PERSONALLY WITH CHRIST MICHAEL AS YOU SHALL DO. GO IN GREAT PEACE, MY DEAR ONES.

I AM CHRIST MICHAEL,

AKA GYEORGOS CERES HATONN.

Sananda: I AM Sananda Immanuel, who comes to Earth, returning with Christ Michael. It is time for you to fully understand who we all are. It is time to fully understand the fullness of this mission. It is time to understand that you are all come, as messiahs, in service to Christ Michael. It is time you better understood my role in all of this.

Long ago, this was planned for earth. It was thought appropriate to have Christ Michael, come together with an Ascending Son in the missions, and so I was chosen for this. You have read that I am a Kumara, and This Is So. My real father, that birthed me into the Universe long ago in Lyra, is non other than Sanat Kumara, the Ancient of Days as recorded in your Bible.

I agreed long ago, to have many incarnations into earth to help begin the process of lifting her up. You read at the Phoenix Journals that Gabriel was my father at that time 2000 years and This Is True. Understand the nature of the DNA required to bring a Creator Son into a physical incarnation, in the likes of the planetary peoples. I come to serve Earth at this time, in the complete fulfillment of my mission here. I, with the Second Coming event, become what is called a “Planetary Prince” in our Universe. I will be the representative of the Universal headquarters on Earth.

Earth had another Planetary Prince at one time, who fell into the Lucifer Rebellion, and was removed during the First Coming. That is the story behind the temptation of Christ, the meeting with Lucifer, and Caligastia the Planetary Prince at that time, who encouraged myself, and Christ Michael to join with them. That did not happen.

Christ Michael has been since that time, acting Planetary Prince. It has been known all this time, that I would carry this job, with the Second Coming event, assuming that Earth was not destroyed by our BBB&G’s. We planned for this possibility, so bad had this place become with the World Wars.

The story, as told in Christian religion that I go and prepare a place in heaven for you, meant that I went and found a large number of planets, for you to be moved too, in the advent it became necessary to evacuate the planet. You have been placed in “Heaven”; it is the return of Earth to the heavenly realms.

I will remain the Planetary Prince, for quite some time, but it will not be a permanent position. In time, when you are united and grown up, you will chose you own Planetary Prince, not by force, but by vote. You will become united; all planets do as they grown up. This is not the same as the New World Order that was to be stuffed down your throats.

I know that most of you are quite surprised to learn the identity of Hatonn. Be not put off by this, you have seen him as a loving, but firm commander, who returned me to Earth, in the starship Phoenix. He is loving and he is firm, and he, although he is the God, of this Universe, he desires not to be bowed down to. You have been told that I do not want people hanging at my feet, and this is so. So is it with Hatonn, and you may continue in this name if comfortable to you.

Wasn’t this quite a lovely surprise, that this lovely old Hatonn is your Universal Creator God, here in person? Let us join in love all together now, and be who we are, all Sons and Daughters of God. I am a teacher, I am also a warrior, and my first works with the planet, were in war with the adversaries of God. Now I return in peace.

The Kumara’s are a family group, some related by blood, some by choice. It was considered to throw in the rag, give up on Earth, long ago, in the warring. All of us could have ascended into the Heaven worlds, not having to further incarnate and work in these realms. We chose not to do so, and to instead come to this solar system, and take her back, and WE HAVE DONE SO. ...

3. CHRIST MICHAELS WAY TO DRIVE HIS UNIVERSE

CM through Eve, 8th October 2008

In the evening then CM checked in shortly and asked for a chat. I promised him but then I was very tired and assured him I would be ready the next morning.

E: CM, here I am, as promised!

CM: I'm very pleased, Eve. Quite some time has passed since we had our last chat. Well, Esu tried to give me the kisses on your behalf but I wanted to collect them myself (grinning)

E: ...and you are not wearing your sunglasses!

CM: No, not right now. It's my gift for you to allow you a look into my eyes.

E: Your mighty presence is shining in them so brightly!

CM: Come on, let me hug you. My presence is not regarded as that mighty by some of my colleagues and councils of the big universe. See, it's not that they would not love me, they really do and respect and honour me. But to a certain degree I am in their view some kind of exotic.

Your perception is correct, my high risk allowance in my universe and my very unconventional ways of handling situations and stepping into them seems to them that like and from time to time they simply shake their heads. I always try to be "among" you, dear ones. When I am your father I am not the kind of father on a far distant throne, I'm the kind of father going on excursions with his kids, to the soccer ground, etc. I wish to be touchable for you. Right now there are some among my kids that rebel a lot against their father – with the intention to test whether they can dominate him. Well, they won't come through with this. Wherever they go, there is no way to avoid passing and meeting me.

E: CM, why are you so extraordinarily different from other creator sons?

CM: This is a question you must ask the Eternal Creator (smiles)

E: Do you think he himself might wonder what went wrong when creating you?

CM: (laughs loudly) No, surely not. Of course, I am a part of him, too, so I would say that this is due to the creativity and evolution of the whole creation. If you have an identical concept as a basis for universes, these will in spite of this develop differently within a certain scale. It's fascinating to observe what happens within the given frame, but the limits can clearly be recognized as they were set. Maybe I am a factor giving evolution a leap forward, as a model and showcase for all. This is the fabrics I see as my personal identity and this is also the fabrics you are made of. This is the reason for the fact that you are here with me as team members and transformers. Very conservative team members would tend to hold back things. I need challengers and pioneers to operate in the scheme that seems to be adequate for me. Some councils charge me to be too risky. You charge, councils charge. This is natural, as it's a basis for meeting decisions and to make up ones mind. There is a difference between charging and judging. It's like that: They see me moving the frame sides to a wider picture and some of them feel uncomfortable. They are somehow holding the hand in front of the eyes and say: Ok, for heavens sake, this is Christ Michael again. Well, good luck then.

Then there are observers who would never do something like that themselves, but they are interested – like you in TV shows you love to watch – and they are placing themselves in the first row to see what happens. They comment. Well, Christ Michael is always good for an exciting show.

And some of them – well, a few – are starting to ask themselves whether they carry some hidden CM factors inside. (Smiles) Just a few, dear.

E: CM, you were once talking about souls incarnate with the potential to once become creators of universes, too. This is unusual.

CM: Indeed. Remember, I am the explorer of a new way to go. The output of my universe is meant to be extraordinary and diamond like, strong with love, reliable and unbreakable. This is the pride I have in my concept of creation and my focus. My fellows and assistants in this project must fit into this concept. I do not have any conservative assistants. Every single of you is enthusiastic about this expedition.

E: CM, you are a beautiful and brilliant mind. When do you think your mission will have been successful?

CM: When I step in front of the Eternal Father of All That Is, presenting all the shining diamond souls, telling him: Beloved father of mine, this is what Nebadonia and me have created in gratitude, grace and love to delight you and to honour your presence as the Eternal Father and Prime Creator. But, see, I cannot do this without the precious pearls of my team!

E: CM, have you always been such a pioneer?

CM: Well, let's say I was created with the potential to be one. It was my decision to explore this potential and this made me become who I Am. See, when you are reaching out to create a universe you have received education and information from teachers who are some kind of conservative. Then it's your own turn to start and to collect experience.

Every moving thing tends to start in a slow mode. I started in a conservative way, but quickly discovered that the usual manners did not match my inner marker. I have been developing new skills and handling tools and many watchers were astonished about when my creation turned out to be more risky straight from the beginning.

The difference between “could” and “will do ” was quite clear to me. This universe of Nebadon was the only one I had, so I had to meet a decision. It was a “will-do” decision and the reason why a team collected around me that was fascinated from the first universal “minute of creation” on.

You went with me all along the way, I can't put in words how many sessions we had considering existing potentials. You have been in the mud for me so many times – and out of your purest love and dedication for me you said: CM, we will manage this for you. This has been so touching to my heart that I decided to go into the “mud” myself beyond of the usual measure. All of you – of my dear ground crew – have a “hands-on” mentality and I LOVE THAT. I can't tell you how much I love that. I love that so much that I want to demonstrate that I am AMONG you with my “sleeves” up at work.

It's a new way to demonstrate unity and this is seen in all the universes. I can do that without generating further problems elsewhere in Nebadon, as Gabriel of Salvington and all the rest are performing a brilliant backup for myself. All experience we have collected so far has acknowledged to me that I made the right choice by deciding the way I did. Explorers always face doubters, but this is a natural way, even in universes.

I cannot express with words the love that dwells among me and all of you, the longer the road has been that we walked together, the more mighty love grows. It's love beyond any measure and even though there is sadness because of the rebels. I Am always seeking to gift you with opportunities to develop your skills and potentials. I don't mind if you are sending me protest emails out of your mind stating you were fed up and "where the hell" I remain. I AM HERE, folks, and it's quite a road to go. This is the time where you must decide, or you will be made a decision.

Make known to your fellows that this is the time to either make a new 5D-contract for "renting" my beloved seed planet Urantia for the next cycle or to simply move out to another home in this universe where contracts for 3D renting are still available. And the ones signing the new contract will REDO the planet, as you would redo an apartment that has suffered from a long living in there. I will show you how to redo this planet and afterwards we'll have a big party and celebration. Folks, I Am your Chief of redoing and I don't care whether some councils laugh at me saying: Have you ever seen a creator son with a brush in his hand.

I love adventures. Many of you do, too. You attend rally's down there. I attend the correcting time for Urantia. There are many gifts and surprises waiting for you along the way, for all my faithful ones that hold the line, who keep the light shining amidst the mud and who do this with a trusting heart to manifest the Golden Age out of their love for their cosmic parents, for their fellows on the road and for the Eternal Creator of all that is. May I ask you to share this with the public and I'm now going back to my work of redoing my seed planet back into light and love.

Thank you and Namasté, dear one.

I Am Christ Michael of Nebadon. .

3.1 AN INTRIGUE OF INCREDIBLE SIZE

ESU IMMANUEL KUMARA, Sananda and Planetary Prince of Urantia, material level

Esu commenting, excerpt from a longer private piece

May, 2013

....We had not expected that this mission might become as complicated as it is now. Universe – at least the peripherals – are still some kind of „wild west“ in the Great Universe, and the „wild card“ CM has integrated in the frames of his creation has turned out to be tricky, not to say challenging. Nothing suited for beginners.

More than a few will be disappointed when they end their incarnation and return to their cosmic state of being, finding out that the matrix of divine glory they were told about does not out as half as promising as they had imagined. It's hard work, either on the side of matter as well as on the etheric realms. As you have discovered the intrigue of incredible size up to the highest ranks of the superuniverse, the situation might seem to you quite hopeless. You are asking how this could ever go that far. And I tell you – as above, so below, and vice versa.

Descending sons who are lacking experience on worlds of matter have a missing link by that and fence sitting has become a deadly trap in many cases. There are universal forces trying to sell you that you just have to be „good people“ following the rules they tell you – and you should be rewarded for that. Reducing you to be blind followers never putting anything in question because the origin is some universal Big Wig. That's exactly what your planetary NWO folks want you to do and be. But CM wants to have souls with discernment, real evolution.... as evolution is not propelled by followers, it's creative pioneers doing that.

Even in the universal ranks there are those who are rejective to new ways and who'd be pleased to have their attitude undermined by CMs concept failing and Nebadon going south. Incredible to you? Yes, quite a bit. But that's the way it is. Worms of meanness have even entered places you'd never have expected them to enter – they cover themselves by nearly perfect masks of holiness and the sweetest words. As below, so above, and vice versa.

You who believe in the divine, you will live to see you who start to remember will be home you who have stood strong in the name of the Father will be the pillars of the New World to come.

3.2 Now, here is another participant in the drama.

Fully and deeply integrated in the every day use of our language – even known to every child – is the word DEVIL. But doing some research through available material you may gain the impression that so many meanings, names and interpretations are merging in this word, that it might well be regarded as an intentional keeping up of a status of lacking clarity.

Putting aside all others, having a look at LUCIFER himself. What do we know about him? Seemingly, nearly everything and still nothing. He was a shining and brilliant son of Christ Michael, from an order of administrative forces working with the created planets and systems. He was successfully administrating the big planet system of Satania. And most suddenly he is being blamed to be the creator of a rebellion. It's reported that he was indicted at the courts of the superuniverse of Orvonton and sentenced. We were told that he was later taken out of creation – the expression says „uncreated“ – fulfilling his own demand.

But why has he not been casted out from his sonship to CM? Wouldn't that have been just logical, having a look upon the story of Adam and Eve? Or does it perhaps better match to secret agendas of somebody unknown if Lucifer as „creator of the rebellion“ has to be seen as a direct son of CM?

This would right away mean „Shame to CM“! Does a shape of intention start to show up from this assumption? Wouldn't a rebellion be the perfect fit in order to put some really big spokes into CM's wheel?

May it be that this brilliant and shining son named Lucifer had discovered some really interesting things going on in the superuniverse which were not fully matching the will of the Eternal Father and may it be that he had openly made it a public topic? May it be that he was nicked right away? And going on pondering into this direction, even more uncomfortable questions arise.

But these questions seem to have a common denominator. Is there intent behind all the delays we have been facing?

What seems to be for sure is that it's not the intention of Christ Michael and the Eternal Father. But whose intention might it be then? And why? What's the goal of those failing to apply full correctness in this?

Ok, let's go on.

It was more than just one time that CM promised that „enough is enough“. The results? Nothing happening again. Who is doing sabotage to the sovereign and his system?

Seemingly, powerful entities seem to have their hands involved. Certainly, many beings participate to support their own profile and career. Certainly, even beings from the own rows.

And maybe even a complete order of sons of CM.

If this is possible? Sure! And how it is. Just read this transmission by Esu through Jess, from the year 2009.

„ ... The Lyra system was being attacked by forces arguing against the concept of connection with Christ Michael. His wish to explore all aspects of choice and logical connection led to the rise of a part of his creation choosing to say he did not create them. They were free to choose the path they wished, and their decision led ultimately to galactic wars between what has come to be called the light and the dark.

Those rejecting a connection with Christ Michael turned their back on the light of his continued guidance and insight and convinced themselves they were able to create anything they needed without his assistance or approval. Believing they were totally separate, they began to take over other worlds to persuade groups of inhabitants to follow their way of thinking. This reached a climax in Lyra as part of that solar system was blown up. ...“

Have you ever read this piece? Doesn't this sound really alerting to you when you read it? Turmoil and rejection in full openness and awarely? .... so, no chimera with „as above so below“ and vice versa.

Time to say good-bye to the belief that „up there“ in universe everything is nice and perfect. If you like to have it as it is in paradise, you need to move on to the central universe of Havona and Paradise island, to see the holy trinity – just here you can find what some faking forces are telling you about this local universe and the super universes.

The outer peripherals and worlds are still facing anarchy, corruption and not so nice being together. And some high ranking forces involved in administrating these outer worlds might enjoy to see this status to be kept still, playing around with light and life, regarding themselves as identical with the Eternal Father – while they have come to be untracked from the given path, cementing their needs for power backstage in mean ways – which means even brutally, cruel and recklessly.

They seek to keep rulership and have lost the will of the Eternal Father from their view. It is most likely not the greatest good of all and the highest benefit which they aim at .... being interested more in matching their own goals and benefit.

So, creator sons like ours, Christ Michael Aton, seem to be a problem to them. Having his Eternal Fathers ok and being in alignment with him for his very special sort of creation they cannot openly work against him. In this case the job might be done by „well-meaning“ consulting service and endless debates. As it is not recommendable to directly go against CM, every opportunity is being taken to harm his creation – and should it even be by not allowing to interfere.

What a welcome strategy to make use of any occasion offering for torpedoing Christ Michaels „nonsense“-plans at celestial conclaves and harming them by hidden sabotage. Professionally presenting it on the universal channels finally leads to CM being everybody’s laughingstock.

Maybe a similar strategy was also applied to the case of this son of CM we have been referring to already. Lucifer might have revealed backstage affairs and intended to make a public topic out of it. So intelligent forces turned things around to make use of him against CM. If it happened like this one could certainly call it a false flag attack of sorts.

The drama developed quickly and successfully and still today it’s carefully being nurtured to remain a frightening monster to everybody. How well this fits into „their“ concept.

And this concept foresees that a genius like CM shall never succeed bringing his „outer rim“ universe into light and life! For this reason all this wrangling around upon this planet down here is of such a big model role, they simply cannot allow things getting forward. The idea of loosing their power is not amusing to these forces – in case we may succeed reaching this goal.

It’s high time for these beings including their various servants to finally LIFT UP THEIR EYES AND LOOK UP TO THE ETERNAL FATHER IN HUMILITY!

Harm caused by them is kind of immense. And it will take incredible quantum’s of time and energy to „REDO“ everything so that it will match again to the greatest good of all.

4. Sanat Kumara

Head of the Kumara-Clan and Solar Logos

SUMMARY OF THE SITUATION

29th May 2013

Eve, good morning dear daughter. This is Sanat Kumara speaking. Let's spare phrases of politeness and go straight to the topic. I want to confirm what you finally understood yesterday... after the movie „into darkness“.

It's our big hope to make the forces withdraw when the story starts to be told. It was superior to „save“ L as the most important witness and this is the main pressure factor. (we will not reveal HOW this was done and WHO did it, just take note of it that this was done. E.)

Currently he's writing down documentation, replacements for the archives which were deleted by the corruptive forces. He will still need a bit of time, but you do, too, until you have brought everything into a form. An e-book would be fine as well, beyond availability on regular internet pages.

As you called it yesterday – a real shit job – I must confirm, too, yes it is. Nebadon was made a place where shit is hitting the fan.

You asked: If Lucifer is NOT the originator of the matrix of massacres causing star wars and apocalypse ... who is it THEN?

And I tell you: It's beings of artificial intelligence which were indeed encouraged by the wider frames of CM's universe, but Christ Michael – as a careful observer of his own creation – had his hands on it right away for correction – and he was literally hindered to do this – by higher ranks who wanted to encourage shit, in order to blame an extremely innovative Michael Son who had not bowed under their advice before starting his universe.

Lucifer was one of his most capable sons and a very smart one, and he smelled pretty soon what meal was about to be in the pot against his father. So he made a proclamation, – on the sea of glass – which was even reported in the UB, but it was not about doubting GOD, it was about doubting the higher ranks of universal administration – who had pretty much made use of a habit of presenting themselves as identical with the Eternal Father, – which is NOT the case.

But this habit had been impressive to many who were receptive for it, and so it was possible to capture nearly a complete order of sons under a „management“ of phrases and fence sitting non-activity, while backstage triggers were pushed to build a matrix for spreading evil by artificial intelligence and lies which were set up so tricky that they even would infiltrate soul carriers and universal citizens.

Lucifer was the one they blamed everything to – and he was stunned about seeing the spider net being woven around him in no time, and his father hardly being able to help him. So they pulled him at the court, blaming him of all these false indictions, and he would always insist on speaking out his truth against the upper hierarchy.

There was so much faked evidence that he was ridiculed all over, and it was regretted officially that he denied to come „home“. He was pissed that much that he asked to be taken out of creation, (That strongly reminds me to Martin Luther, who was put under pressure to revoke, by threatening his life, and he would not do it, and when he came out alive from that, he translated the Bible so that everybody would be able to read it. E.)

and everybody was told officially that this was so and had happened, but backstage he was not granted his request. (Papa Source literally saved him by decreeing this, E.) He was kept waiting until CM had reached his sovereignty and then entrapped inside this „monument of Nebadon“ which CM found waiting for him when he returned from his last self bestowal on this planet. He was trapped in it in a way you'd call a torture and the monument expressed this torture like „living“.

For quite some time nobody had an idea about the identity of the monument, but it was horrifying to watch and certainly not „honoring“ CM. The official version said that it was about the torture of CM put to the cross by his own creation, but it was more keeping a wound open and putting „salt“ into it, than bowing the head in awe about the great love and mercy this Michael son had proved to have for his creation.

Eve, Christ Michael is convinced to save his creation, he will not bow under evil. It's true, none of you who now have discovered the truth really were in joy to become incarnate and bestowal yourselves straight on a planet which was a mess, but when CM explained his plan to you, you agreed to do this job.

It might sound paradox, but knowing the truth you seemed to be more safe being incarnate than remaining „UP“. CM returned to this planet in 1954 and now look how soon your incarnations were „triggered“! While you grew up and were still asleep, CM tried several other things to make a difference, but all his plans were crossed by intrigues, mainly from „own“ rows, and truly the worst weapon against him was the encouraging of what you call „New Age Movement“, supported especially by the order of Melchisedeks. It has paralyzed myriads of capable starseeds into corners of inactivity, while they had done better studying the PJ's. CM said:

YOU DON'T MOVE ANYTHING BY TALKING ABOUT LOVE AND TRUTH. THE ONLY WAY TO MOVE SOMETHING IS BECOMING AND BEING LOVE AND TRUTH IN ACTION.

So you bestowaled yourselves to this planet and it's humanity, with the goal to find out all about it, again, in a zone of density and lies, in order to become a living proof for the possibility to overcome the dark net even as „agondonters“. Now you have to set up what you found out, you have to write it down and document it and then we are going to chase it all at once through every universal communication channel available.

Best case the hierarchies will withdraw and leave Nebadon to CM as it should be, worst case they will keep on fighting for this construct and CM will need to have an open confrontation with them, which might result in quarantining the complete local universe. What cannot be cut off is the connection between CM and his parents in Paradise, so the false players might have to fear consequences from there, which makes us hope for the better outcome. Now you might know why Paradise Island is a high security tract, it's needed.

This is all for the moment. I leave you now, so that you can go on with your valuable work. You may use that publicly if you wish to. Kumaras are no anonymous cowards and time is here to speak out. Salu, this is Sanat, aka Grandfather.

Note from Eve:

Ok, I was going to say something about the torture Lucifer was subjected to in the monument. I'll have to do a little geomancy lesson on that first. As you know, everything is vibration. Vibration can be measured. Geomancy uses BOVIS units and a scale that measures these units - the BOVISMETER. Measuring is done with a pendulum.

Geomancers have found out that the optimal place for a person to live holds a vibration of 6-8000 Bovis units. Power places in churches or in nature have much higher units - over 8000 - 12000, 16000 etc. Wonderful for an "initiation", a download or other temporary spiritual endeavor, in the longer term it would stress a person and also be detrimental.

Accordingly detrimental to the well-being are places that have a vibration that is less than 6000 units.

The Aztecs - who were quite brutal - had created whole initiation places - where it was almost like on a roller coaster. There were places with high Bovis units and places with very low units on the way, which the initiate had to walk. Geomancers have measured this at ancient sites. For example, so-called DOLMEN, sacrificial tables, have a very low vibration, menhirs have a high one.

In Egypt there is a temple complex with a room that had to be sealed because tourists kept fainting in it. The vibration in this room, or on the sacrificial tables, was 1000 Bovis units.

These 1000 units are the border between life and death. A researcher, for example, put his head into the mouth of a stone lion at an Aztec temple for fun. He could not free himself because he was incapacitated and almost unconscious due to the low vibration. His fellow explorers were finally able to free him.

Since everything is vibration, - also in the universe, there is also a vibration border between etheric existence and non-existence. Lucifer was subjected to a permanent vibration by a vile wiring, which held exactly the limit between living and dissolving, or just over it. He was held in long time between life and death - from the creation he was not allowed to be taken, by decree of the Eternal Father. He was held barely still alive so that his agony could be expressed outwardly - it was transferred to the monument. As an actually immortal eternal being, his body could also not simply say goodbye.

One can - I think - hardly get an idea of what was done to him. And what was also done to others in his name.

All this would indeed be material for a new Hollywood film. Oh yes, if anyone would like to get more into the subject of geomancy, there are 2 wonderful books on it, by Blanche Merz, "Places of Power" and "The Soul of a Place".

5. Monjoronson - THERE NEED TO BE CORRECTIONS TO THE UB

Avonal from Paradise

13th June 2013

through Eve

Monjoronson, you know I still wanted to ask you a question....

Hello Eve! Yes, I'm aware of that and we have already linked our minds a few times. As I remember you wanted to know about my supervision of the Book of Urantia.

Indeed. You told, you had the supervision and now we know about quite some things... which seem to be presented in a manipulated way or to have been left out. I suppose when you came from Paradise to assist CM's project, CM had properly informed you to be his trustee. But if I see things correctly, the official opinion in Nebadon was dictated differently by the higher Lords. How did you deal with the compromise you obviously had to perform about the contents of the UB?

To answer that, Eve, let me go back to the time when CM accepted my application, rejecting some of the other Avonals who seemed to be the preference of the councils.

Besides, even after CM gaining sovereignty these councils remained at Nebadon, the UB states that CM asked them to stay as he had been so enthusiastic about them, but in fact he just could not get rid of them as they seemed to be deaf to his polite suggestions to leave – and every stronger advice would have harmed kindness. At least, CM had the choice to accept me, and we had quite some time of very personal briefing.

At first I could hardly believe what I heard, but attending the first conclave with the councils I quickly grasped that CM was completely right and that the cart seemed to be stuck in the mud quite deeply. I chose to set up my pokerface and make diplomacy my upper goal – which also meant that in some cases I had no other choice than to accept screwed material to the UB – or to agree that certain things were to be left out.

There will have to be corrections of course, certainly. And I was NOT comfortable with how it went, it was a real tightrope walk. However, I was always aligned with CM and we took our private notes on that.

We had hoped for success of the teaching mission, but I have to admit that it was corrupted, too... very soon. You remember the effort to found „Melchisedek schools“ on this planet? Do I need to say more?

So, I have completely withdrawn from that project. I had intended to look for a trusted and clear channel with AH, but as you experienced there is hardly any clear channel left there, although they use my name pretty often in comparison to the past.... writing a style by which they think to be matching my way to speak, so far it has come. Now, not to paint all in black, there's light at the horizon and I'm convinced we'll be successful finally.

As CM told you there can be no other foundation than truth. It's no crime to fail, but not to admit it or intentionally going on a false way weighs heavy. We have collected some material, and this... material will be put upon the table now, for open confrontation after your folks on this planet have made it into „knowing“.

You know, Eve, when evolution goes on and forward, reglementations have to be adapted, too, and experiences with ancient stuff cannot necessarily be valid for innovation. CM's innovative framework taken as a basis for his creation would have needed dynamic handling instead of an outmoded laissez-faire attitude which the councils advised, .... high risk was involved. Anti-authoritarian style at raising kids has not proved to be successful in general. Rules must serve creation – absence of rules or harsh appliance of old model rules against brand new concepts of creation will lead to loss of creation and into self-destruction.

You and me seem to have understood this. The council members seemed to have difficulties on that, or they intentionally chose not to understand.

May I pass on to Machiventa?

Yes of course. Thank you for the new aspects you gave me!

Note from Eve:

In the camp of those who do everything to refute or ridicule us, it was claimed, among other things, that the text from the Eternal Father/Papa Source - could not be real at all, because I would be an "ascending son", and ascending sons could not make contact with Papa Source.

This is, of course, absurd. The Father Fragment enables all universal beings direct contact, both to the Father of the local universe - CM - and to the Creator Source, the Eternal Father, whose direct descendant CM is. It is not by chance that it is said "He who has seen the Son has seen the Father". Those who have done their homework will also have noticed that there are "Ascending Sons" who have already completed their careers and are in universal service. By "career" or "universal career of ascending sons" one understands the so-called TRINITIZATION - which means becoming ONE with the ETERNAL FATHER and the Paradise Trinity (please read more in the UB). When this state is reached, the ascending son decides whether he wants to remain forever ONE with the Eternal Father - thus giving up his individual personality and choosing the dissolution IN the Eternal Father - or whether he wants to keep his acquired personality and may accept a "job" in the Great Universe - depending on suitability.

Even after trinitization, the formerly "Ascending Sons" - who are now actually descending again - nevertheless continue to be called "Ascending Sons" to distinguish them from the "Descending Sons" who were "created" directly on Paradise or in the local universes. For example, Esu is an "Ascending Trinitized Son" who has chosen universe service - with the title of a "Mighty Messenger."

Statements like mentioned above are an indication for the intention to want to create separation, because they suggest to the readers that one - similarly as in the church - needs a "prayer leader", (pastor), because one as an ordinary member of the church would be much too low to be able to contact God directly. But it is CM - like of course the Eternal Father himself - a "heart's desire" - to be able to come directly into contact with ALL his creation beings. If more would be convinced of it and make use of it, the conditions would be surely better than they are today.

Also to you all we say again as employees of christ-michael.net, do not buy blindly everything from us. ASK YOURSELF - the direct contact between the individual and God in the role of the best friend and creator is always the GOAL!

6. Machiventa Melchisedek

Planetary prince of Urantia, spiritual level

13th June 2013

through Eve

Hi Eve, this is Machiventa speaking. Somehow my place seems to be very much sitting between the chairs. Yes, but I don't mind. It seems, after having taken over this job I needed a bit of time to see what's going on – all starts with observing – and I regret having to compare the situation in universe a little bit with the „cancer research“ – as it is nothing which would truly support healing. Backstage it's an intentional killing machine – and official truth and evidence are being „professionally ignored“.

From time to time, educated and courageous scientists become incarnate – to bring humanity forward, e.g. Tesla with his great invention on the energy problem.

And as well your Dr. Hamer, who has done a real big breakthrough on the issue of understanding how the body works melded with the soul. Now, Tesla was corrupted and Dr. Hamer was made an outlaw, starting in his country of birth all over the world, and ridiculed by the official medicine lobby – fearing for loss of power and influence.

Now take these examples and try if you can see parallels to what you have just been presented in regard of the universe.

There's a lobby.

A lobby has interests.

CM is not a part of the lobby which has sold out ethics and moral.

The lobby is in fear about a real „cure“ of the problem, as it would out their hidden agenda. Understanding what happened to Tesla and Hamer better enables you to understand the big picture and the often recited „as above so below“ and vice versa. What happens on this planet is some kind of miniature-cosmos. Starting to clear things at one level will necessarily have an effect to the other levels. At the beginning of this level truth must be put on the table, come what may.

Now that you have succeeded to find out and do this, things will likely move on in the right direction. We are pleased about that, you know, skeletons in the closet are a downer to sustainability. I'm joining your wishes for a good outcome of all.

7. ETERNAL FATHER, PAPA SOURCE - THE LAST WORD IS ALWAYS MINE

through Eve,

13th June 2013

Now, Papa Source, .... what do you comment or „recommend“?

Dear Eve, this is Papa Source. It seems, quite a lot has happend since you sent me this mind mail suggesting I should trust in my son's – in Christ Michael Atons – abilities and not merge into his affairs... do you see me smile?

Oh yes, I do.

Indeed, I have always trusted in his abilities to handle his project, even though he was hindered and held up. When it was told I'd interfere, this was what I'd call manipulation. He has always had my support, but never was subject to my reglemention. I have not come from Paradise to sit in the first row, trying to screw his creation a bit. There were exactly two times when he asked me for support, help and interference. One was that tragic night before his crucifixion to come, when he was asking me if he needed to drink this cup and I told him that he did not have to do it. The other occasion it was about his son Lucifer who had voted to be taken out of creation and Christ Michael was in such desconsolation about – as the hierarchies at the courts were likely to fulfill Lucifers choice. I decreed that this must not be done, and at least they followed this order. If I have a wish – I can have wishes and see what develops from them without manifesting them myself – I'd wish for the presentation of truth around Nebadon affairs and everything related to it – and I'd wish that CM succeeds to solve this matter by his own genious and power. I hope to finally comment: Well done, my son.

There is proof already that this innovative concept will brilliantly work, provided he's not hindered in handling all his way. I'm impressed by the quality of love he succeeds to make the core of his concept. I'm also impressed by some jewels which are offspring from his creation, making me agree that it was worth taking the risk of CM's universal frame.

This universe will not pull others down as it was „spread by universal experts“ – this will not happen if Michael Aton finally succeeds living his sovereignty. He can be sure about receiving my support whenever he is asking for it.

Oh, Eve, I wanted to add, I have never had a vacation resting on Divinington watching TV and eating chips, just wanted to hint on that. (I once had a fun piece about that) But this was a real funny suggestion! Never forget, you are under my umbrella and never forget that supporting Christ Michael means as well „supporting Paradise Trinity“.... and allow me a special comment to finish:

NEBADON IS THE TOPPER OF MY CELESTIAL „CHARTS“. Nobody shall evermore try to harm it... and don't forget, – all of you – it IS and ALWAYS HAS BEEN POWERED BY PAPA SOURCE.

Sweeeeet! Thank you so much. I hope, your seal will be respected by everybody!

Now, Eve, CM is here, too, and together do we also put our seal upon this document. And do you know what? Have you ever written a letter, adding a „PS to it, a Post Scriptum“?

Oh, yes, I have. I often do this.

Then I reveal to you, smile, that „POST SCRIPTUM“ is just a cover, because the origin of the letters PS is

PAPA SOURCE,

AS I DO HAVE – ALWAYS REMEMBER, DEAR ONES,

I ALWAYS DO HAVE THE LAST WORD!

8. HOW SOVEREIGN IS SOVEREIGN?

22nd Dec. 2011

Now, CM, it's urgent... are you there? Yes, Eve... I'm near you. I want to apologize – deep from my heart, CM. I'll never leave you, never ever. I'm ashamed I could even think about it... I want to tell you how much I love you... just this afternoon I got a fully aware of the whole picture. CM, CM, feel my love!

I had a flash this afternoon, about how you were „torn apart“ between these Orvonton councils and your plans which could have settled everything long before already... you were standing in for us so hard... but you could not tell us about the councils needy to experiment more.... the years went by and many things did not happen as announced... and we were bashing you and Esu for that... but we should have bashed these councils.. these cosmic PWC's and E&Y's or should I better say „Standard & Poors“? They have never set any foot on a material world.... by incarnation...in this density... in rebellion...but yet they force YOU to take their super-advice from super-universe level – after having lifted their butts to the first row in Neadon – Siraya could not even let YOU do the final piece...We have had 5 years delay at least – just for the Big Wigs being enthusiastic to screw a bit themselves on this experimental lab... and at the same time your ground crew... what must you have felt... you could not tell us about that in this Universe a sovereign is not really sovereign... CM, let me hug you tight! (later)

We don't need a master spirit of universe No. 7 , telling us how fine it was that some of us invented the washing machine ... I wanted to hear YOU, CM, with a final message – and I was disappointed to my bones hearing a big wig from Orvonton speak, taking the microphone out of your hands... We need to hear YOUR voice, dearly beloved CM, as YOU are the creator of this universe, the couraged one, who had the heart to make a bit different frame conditions to his universe. I got a glimpse of your emotional challenge of obeying the cosmic Knigge- the codex of behavior – and hierarchy – rescuing your seed planet.

I got aware that since the rows of audience are booked out for your show, everybody among the Big Wigs wants to play showmaster a little bit, and there are now so many cooks around, calling themselves „star cooks“ – putting your sovereignty in question for the sake of their bureaucracy and politics.... the are about to let your soufflé burn in the oven.... and you could could not even stand in and say „sorry, folks, Siraya just blew it big time – anovertime“.

The being keen on further experiments and maybe a diminished understanding about time on a material planet created an incredible add-on regarding the planetary suffering, including the depleting of star seed forces feeling forsaken by their creator ... in spite you have never ever forsaken us, it's the big masters with their lack of understanding THIS material world... which added and played into the hands of the NWO thugs... (don't need these guys around any more... I'm going to show up there and throw in the rags to speak straight to them – I'll recommend them to go back to their government seats and eat their cookies there, so that they cannot furthermore hinder you, CM making his plan manifest and the planet safe!)

Oh, EVE! You touch me to tears... you seem to have realized my dilemma, by raising the question „how sovereign is a sovereign“ ...

it's true, in their eyes I'm sovereign since yesterday only, and although they have always honoured my act of self bestowal they are still of the opinion that I'm lacking experience, that I should have my „sovereignty driving permission“ in a test period for proving myself... that I still need to be guarded, closely watched ... and finally, they have tasted a bit the adventure and wanted to have their share.

I can hardly describe the feeling of having to match the rules of hierarchy, having to allow that my well worked out plans were crossed either by the dark or by the spiritual hierarchy, who has no idea about how long years can become on Urantia, when you are standing with your back against a wall.. How could I ever have told you about the councils and their many different opinions... another conclave and still and again another one... yes, they were hearing Dabi and Candace, and Jess, but it was always just questions dealing with pro and contra of single theory's... the reaction on a „time out, life is depleted“ – as mostly a „time is eternal and life, too“.

The so called „higher view“ was – in my opinion – not suitable in many ways... because I saw my beloved planet and ground crew in hands of the thugs at the edge of their power... I've been having a hard time... not because we would not have had working solutions, but because of the lack of understanding to act. Yes, there were some mighty politics of Orvonton changed already...but it's true that it's hard to understand how it feels to be caught in service on a world of rebellion... in density... you give my heart ease, Eve, as you put the bits and pieces together, as well as others in your core team.. this is an incredible relief.

The worst thing of all was that you guys believed I had left and forsaken you ... while I truly did anything I could to get my plans accepted and into manifestation ... It was mostly me and Esu countering a complete tribunal...with even the suggestion among to create a new seed planet and allow the old one to be destroyed... How can I ever thank you, Eve, for your insight and standing in! Do whatever you think is right to do in this respect...

Oh, I will, CM. I painfully realize how they are adding damage and destruction to your project, still putting up halos in a vertical row above their heads (up) one upon another... Please forgive me that I ever showed up with a frying pan... with you... I might need it acutally for Siraya! I'm going to staple a few chairs and get upon this tower, to look im into his eyes...

Let me give you a hug back... beloved ..... thanks for helping me to carry that!

(Then, I was showing up energetically „up“ at the councils, while Michael Ephra was doing the same – independantly from me. When we discussed that later, it turned out we had seen the same scenario.)

9. SPELLING THE BEANS TO THE COUNCILS

Ok, now, listen, councils from Orvonton and Siraya. I Am that I Am Eve Kumara, and I speak out of authorization of my divine I AM presence, I'm speaking on behalf of all soul carriers incarnate on Urantia, and also on behalf of Gaia, the planetary soul. I count on that this will be documented in the Akashic records.... and I declare that I'm speaking out of the deepest empathy of my heart – empathy with Christ Michael of Nebadon, whom you are ruling by what you call experience.

This planet is – though – special, and I guess none of you has ever been incarnate on it before, since it unfortunately fell into the state of rebellion, quarantine and prison. You came here and you suppressed CM by the rules of a cosmic hierarchy, you started more experiments just to prove yourselves, your superiority, your wisdom and knowhow... all at the expense of CM, the planet and the groundcrew..... and what you call experiments has resulted to be nothing else than messing around with hopeless conditions, conditions which have developed already into a state of demanding celestial help, should the planet and it's humanity not be subject to destruction.

Eons have passed since this planet fell into rebellion, and CM was not sovereign yet by this time. I assume you were not interested in this special case very much... this is just a small planet in the peripherals of space. How many of you advised CM to let it go?

CM did not give up though, and finally he convinced you to allow him to try. You became witnesses of his self bestowal, of him gaining sovereignty. He developed some extraordinary plans, and you started to taste the adventure. Finally you are interested and here, but you just cannot watch without interfering.

You interfere with more experiments, you mess around with our time, with suffering, we lost many people with high potential... you screw the plans of CM...and by all of this you are playing into the hands of the dark thugs. A delay of 5 years means an incredible further amount of poison spread on the planet and it's atmosphere, people of light murdered, attacked, driven into desconsolation, just come down and live ONE DAY in a body of a man in Palestine or Syria, or Libya, or be Candace for just one day, walk in her shoes when she gets attacked, verbally or physically.... see the chaos all around, just BE INTO IT down here for one single day... and you would bitterly regret every single delay you ever caused to CM.

These delays ridiculed us down here, ridiculed CM's trustworthyness down here, and now it seems hard to find further explanations and backdoors to justify why still nothing happened.... How should he ever have told us that it was YOU folks causing the delays , you and your bureaucracy... he had to cover it, to match the rules of cosmic politeness. I really doubt that you are able to realize the quality of love CM has for this planet and his ground crew.

This planet is a battlefield and all of us are fried. There is no possibility any more to settle it without divine help. Most channels are corrupted, the lightworkers split in fragment groups.

I ask you now, officially, to take a leave and go back to your government seats, and give CM full authorization to decide whatever he thinks is adequate. Stop messing around with the plans concerning this sphere and allow CM to finally get it done!

I might need a staple of chairs to stand upon, for being able to look into your eyes, but with all due respect for the Eternal Father... I will NOT fall down on my knees, I'm one of the ground crew members being stuck in the planetary mud, trying to explain to my fellows why almost nothing of what was announced succeeded to work...

I was not told, I have found that out by myself. I will never more bash CM, I'm sorry that I ever did... and I wish I had realized earlier.

Should you really blow it big time now, causing loss of the planet and humanity, ... I'll be back on the other side – on YOURS – one day, and then I will officially indict you for having denied real support and for having hindered CM to give us the adequate divine support, as this could be well interpreted as a joint-venture with the dark.

Siraya, I may not have invented a washing machine, but I have learned to count two plus two.

This is CM's show, NOT YOURS. So, please, quit and leave the stage for CM and TELL HIM THAT HE DOES NOT HAVE TO ASK FOR ALLOWANCE OF ANYTHING ANY MORE! THAT HE IS FREE DO DECIDE AND ACT IN HIS UNIVERSE WHATEVER HE WISHES FOR!

I AM THAT I AM

EVE KUMARA

Then I decided to confront the Big Boss of the Superuniverse personally.

10. TALKING TO BIG S THE FIRST TIME

27th December 2011

Siraya, are you prepared to talk to me? Hello Eve! I see, I talk to the lady of sunglasses and frying pans?

If you like to call me this way, yes, so it is. I want to find out who you truly are... and if you have made up your mind since my speech last week! I thought – maybe you are lacking contact to CMs ground crew... or is it too low for you to talk with ordinary universal citizens?

Eve, you call yourself an ordinary universal citizen, but this is not what you are. Many of you down there have just little idea about who they truly are, and although there is hierarchy in universe, we don't consider people incarnate as too low to talk to... even if they have placed sunglasses upon the face of their creator son. So to speak, Eve, your speech was quite impressive, and truly, I was missing the words rightaway. You brought up a new perspective and view of a „shocking“ character. Shocking, because when a person always wants the best outcome for all, it's not considered that there is an interpretative factor in it which could be used for a possible indiction! Your bullets were weighing heavy... I must say. You truly stood there in front of our big council and threatened the master spirit of the 7th Superunivers by a possible indiction! I cannot remember any similar case before! Certainly the most extraordinary cases come from Urantia.

Then, Siraya, tell me: How sovereign is a sovereign in your view, how sovereign do YOU let CM be? And: How valuable and needed is the opinion of a being who has never set a foot on a material planet in rebellion? Reading records is one side of the coin, but that does not automatically give you any clue about the real deal, the touchable state of being into it, in a dense zone of non-remembering your origin. Can you gain insight, perhaps, that it was NOT YOU incarnate on this planet, but CM?

True, I was never incarnate on this planet, Eve, but still, Michael is the sovereign, and he could in fact just decide and do!

I don't believe that, Siraya, CM would have long liked to finish the scenario... but he wanted to stay polite, while you maneuvered him by your words, together with your councils. There are several issues which may prove that it was irresponsible by you to cause any single delay! Who will transform the energy of suffering? Who will transform the unnecessary deaths and poisoning of the planet? Who signed the ok for all the additional tons of chemistry blown by the chemtrail aircrafts, for the oil polluting the GOM! For the many animals dying, for good ones killed, was it you? And don't start telling me about eternal life! I'm talking about down here! Siraya, your cooking certification does not match the needs of Nebadon and especially not of Urantia!

If you are insightful, cooperative, then let CM be sovereign as he has to be, to solve these problems finally!

Eve, I think I have understood your message. It's clear and straight and we might try to be just watchers... do you think we should forbid Michael to ask us? (MY, HE SOUNDED IRONICAL)

This would be a brilliant idea! You may discuss these issues later, in the universities of Nebadon, if you need to, but it's important to leave CM free hand with his decisions! Never forget how destruction was caused by your delays! This is NOT the will of the Eternal Father .... anti-authority style on the dark brothers has not done well in any test ... he wants to love and protect, and not necessarily destroy! Every day of waiting also destroys CM's reputation ... which is not of any advantage for this world.

As soon as you don't confirm me in writing that you let CM be 100% sovereign I will hold you responsible for everything destroyed by the so called decision of higher order!

Ok, Eve, I have heard that. I tell you, we have already started to change ways of handling. We hope to match your goal and CM's success.

Siraya, I will stand in for CM with all my divine presence! If somebody tries to hinder his success, he will have to deal with me! And if I have to lend me the sword of light from AA Michael.

You won't need it, Eve. We will set up a document, a contract, with CM, which confirms that he is no more being advised and recommended to hear the councils, and of course, he will have to sign that, too.

I hope he will!

This will make all even more interesting! (Again he sounded ironical)

CM is a genius! You should really ponder about a test incarnation on a material world of Nebadon!

Certainly, I'm not too keen on that... I might prefer just to watch.

Is there no work left for you in Orvonton in your ruler job?

There always is, but there are others working at my office!

Ok, then, I think all was said and done. I wish you a happy getting out of CM's way.

A typical Eve phrase, right?

Good bye Siraya...

Good bye, Eve.

11. CM: I HAVE PRESSED THE BUTTON

THIS MESSAGE WAS CONFIRMED ALSO BY OTHER CHANNELS OF AH, HAZEL, JESS etc.

31st Dec. 2011

Still here. CM asked me to check by, already the day before yesterday.

Now, CM, you wanted to see me?

Dear Eve, yes, indeed. Just shortly and Esu & Adama joining me.

I just wanted to tell you how utmost grateful and also proud we are in regard of what you did! This has never happened before... in this couraged and extraordinary way... all orders were placed meanwhile and to express it in your words: I have pressed the button. I see you still questioning this, as so many years of hoping in vain somehow disabled your imagination, that it does really happen now...

Siraya has placed himself back in the rows of watchers, indeed, he was heavily impressed about the brilliance of my trinitized ascending sons! He said, literally: „Compared with other local universes in Orvonton which deliver a steady average number of beautiful and committed souls to serve in the domain of the Eternal Father, Nebadon just might deliver less, but having a closer look at the „quality“, the Nebadon souls come up to be the most unique and shining diamonds which have never before been seen allover the universe.“ And he bowed his head, smiling, which means a lot with him!

So, CM, it seems you received a big compliment by a Big Wig?!“

One may well call it so, Eve.. I'm not sure about if you even KNOW how much you moved within these last 1,5 weeks, but we are really stunned about! This story will be told all along the universes and I personally won't have any problem to describe how one of my ground crew members showed up here in front of the councils, with sparkling eyes and in full divine presence... it was just... WOW!

I'm even more touched about yor intention to keep all inside the inner circle, which undermines your humility! Now, Eve, I will have to go on surveying the „button process“, even if you might once call me „Jim“ or „Christ Button“. I love the comparison, actually, as Jim Button finally made „Jimballa“ or „Jamballah“ or „Shamballah/Lemuria“ rise again, after having arranged the demise of the dark lands.. the ground crew members have taken big risks, you even moved into the eye of the storm to help, making the NWO cultures sink. Be blessed, my wonderful troop, warriors of the light&Christ, who will never forget what you have done for me! I'm passing on to Esu.

Eve, this is Esu... I was holding myself quietly in the background, but I'm overwhelmed! I cannot say more right now.. I'm still amazed and stunned, while I'm holding my supervision over the activities resulting from CM's orders. Esu.

Evy, sweetie, this is Adama! My beloved daughter, have a wonderful journey to back where you belong, I can't wait to have you in my arms... I won't make further words...as all has been said now! We are awaiting the moment of your turn to come here, yours... Adama!

Introduction:

Eve, ... many greetings at least, also on behalf of Siraya who tells me that he'd very much wish to intensify contact with you, he worships you much, and he says he can fully understand everything you did and said. He says, you helped him to gain a broader perspective on the things going on Urantia, and he appreciates your straightness and courage, there is not many ones alike. Oh, and he also tells that you are wearing the title of a „mighty messenger“ fully justified. And a PS: He asks if you minded him postponing his paperwork in his Orvonton office to stay here for another little while, he bows his head to honour you. Now, Esu, you make my face flushing red. Tell him my best regards in return, I really appreciate this. I'm glad that it seems that we finally can make an arrangement.

12. SIRAYA „FLOWERTALKING“

Ok, then, Siraya, I feel very gifted and honoured. It seems we are now going to have a new basis for cooperation?

Eve, this is Siraya speaking. I'd very much ask for this, grin, I simply cannot afford of having you against me... that was a joke, of course, I thought you'd like it. I have been thinking and pondering on what you said, and I have also watched the things resulting from this and the behavior of others. I have made my conclusion that the status I have does not leave much room for discussions, as most do not have the heart to be of a different opinion. You have stirred the pot, Eve, and you know what... you were right to do so.

I may be the master spirit, but there's certainly more need for contact with the basics on the material worlds. I'm not used to being doubted, but that's only fair to do. I cannot undermine my status by the haze of my rulership while nobody comes even near to make another point in discussions. It bothers me, really, that there are ones in fear to have another opinion, and even ones bashing their colleagues for confronting me. You have truly brought a new perspective to me. And I want to express to you my utmost gratefulness, Eve, do you think you and me could become true and close friends?

Siraya, I'm missing the words... truly, right now, I don't see anything hindering this... you could not have proved more grandezza than by those words.

So may I now call you my trustee? A trustee with full authority to discuss anything?

Under these circumstances, Siraya, yes you may... and I hope I'll get my „lobby“ back.

Be faithful in that, Eve, and allow me to give you a hug!

My gratitude, Siraya, and thank you for the flowers!

The scheduled „Spelling the beans to me“ by Candace vanished. We had nothing more than a nice conversation and that was all ... although she had announced to check every single one of my forum comments in detail. Esu invited me to visit Adama aboard ship and he seemed to be properly informed about all.

17th Jan. 2012

Now, thank you all for your support, it seems things have cooled down to normal working temperature...!

Eve, this is Esu. I'm pleased to hear that (smile) Now you'd need a quiet place to recollect your forces, hm?

Pretty much so.

Should we visit Adama aboard ship?

Cool idea!

Within a second we find ourselves in a big lounge, looking like a hotel lounge a bit, but hyper-phantastic modern – with much more phantasy in decoration, many plants and indirect illumination. Floor is some kind of soft grasslike „carpet“ which seems to be alive. Esu is calling Adama telepathically and after a little while Adama appears coming through one of the entrances opening in complete silence. He's dressed casually, a loose shirt and comfortable trousers, and he's smiling all over the face. Esu is smiling, too, opening his arms for a welcome and we hug all at once. I feel really small amidst these two tall figures.

„Eve,“ Adama grins. „So good to see you!“ I just nod.

„We just came here to have a small break and to relax a bit,“ Esu states. „It seems, Eve and me were having a hard time!“

„I have heard something about it,“ Adama comments and twinkles to me. „Eve has had a few battles about being innovative versus politically correct.“

„But,“ Esu comments in return, „impressingly she received a flower bouquet finally, which might have disappointed certain parties which preferred to see her as a boiled frog.“

13. CM's FIRST ANSWERING OF SPECIAL QUESTIONS

15th Jan. 2013

CM, I'm really fed up with you guys not manifesting anything for all to see. You are exhausting your ground crew, you are playing poker and I doubt Sirayas role in all of this, so seemingly innocent. Just seemingly, you know. Anyway we have good reasons to be pissed. Our forces are depleted, AH split, part-wise disabled and not operable. And more questions are arising. How can it happen that Adam and Eve lost their sonship as descendants of you just because of that silly contract valid for a sphere of hardships under the doubtful management of Melchisedeks, while Lucifer was forgiven to come home and you acted out tons of mercy over the dark broods failing en masse? How can you ever look into the faces of Adam and Eve – or tell me: Who made this little arrangement?

Eve, I see your point. Without wanting to make this situation look faking better I just have to say: I had not yet gained sovereignty back then. This means that there was ruling advice by the Orvonton high lords who took advantage by the clan of my Melchisedek sons, who are the most conservative and strict parties, and often not content with my way to manage. When I'm now tapping back into the situation where the big M's manifested mercyless consequences due to what was called a breaking of the contract I'm surrounded by a big weariness. It was the least I could do to revitalize Adam and Eve right away and tell them heart to heart about decisions which were not up to me any more.

This is the reason for another split, as the Melchisedeks have often been my counterplayers more than my supporters. Everything is a terrible mess. Even now – although I'm sovereign upon paper – so to say – this goes on – I suppose I'm not the only father who asks himself how to explain the behavior of some of his children, concerning a lack of loving mercy and goodness instead of harmful consequences. Machiventa has proved to be an exception, but he has to pay attention due to his clan trying to influence him. You are the first one down incarnate asking about this, of course you have known before, but you remember now. In spite of what all of you are being told officially there is still mighty influence by the Orvonton heads who are not mainly contributing into the „act now“ direction I'm aiming at. I'm not having a fine time, you know. Sometimes it seems I'm going against windmills.

I see. Is there no official way to act? Can't you just compliment the Orvonton heads out of Nebadon, back to their desks?

I could, but this would mean more split. Even now they have a hidden need to see things go downhill, in order to prove to me that it was wrong to set wider frames for my universe. I don't wish for it, but an upcoming mess elsewhere (not in Nebadon) would be what was needed to distract them and move their presence away from here.

Ok, this is pretty clear. Now, CM, allow me another question.

Go ahead, darling.

Back then in Getsehmane, who was it encouraging you to go through this terrible experience of becoming tortured and nailed to the cross to end your incarnation?

It was the Eternal father telling me I did not have to do this, and the Orvonton heads confronting me politely with pride and model roles to experience even this scenario, they did not really name it cowardness not do to so, but they made a big point out of it, arguing to benefit from my last self bestowal to the fullest. All in all this was the price I had to pay for my little trick of taking Esu with me and adding a share for a secret adamic project, leaving my own DNA, although I had been ordered by the Eternal Father not to do so.

So, are you saying, CM, they encouraged you to be crucified because of having had sex with Mary Magdalen and leaving her pregnant with Sarh? (My goodness – isn't this somehow nearly similar to what Eve did with Cano and what Adam did with Laotta back then?)

That's brutally frankly expressed, Eve. I bet they had not expected me to drink this cup, but I did, as I did not intend to owe anything to them. The monument they placed for me in Nebadon was an arrangement of the Orvonton folks, mainly Siraya.

One thing I promise to you: When all of this is over and Nebadon has become calm again and void of overcontrol, Adam and Eve will receive again their status as direct sons of mine, as they were before, and we will go on working to make Nebadon a place where mercy and love rule prior to „consequences“.

But the Melchisedeks will still be here!

We'll have to do something on them, to develop them in a more unconventional direction. There needs to be some change in their view of the „world“. Everything is just black and white for them. I regret this deeply.

So, there need to be assessment centers for educating the order of your teacher sons?

If you call it so, yes. Candace is personally not aware of all of this.

Ok, CM. Thanks for your openness. Let's see where we will finally land, but my recommendation is to show Siraya & Co where the door is. Tell them you make it a closed job, internal in Nebadon. Too many cooks spoil the meal.

Thanks for advising me, Eve, seriously.

Otherwise I'm going to show up there with my armor.

How lucky I am to have Kumaras standing in for me!

Smile.

14. PUTTING ON MY ARMOUR

25th Jan. 2013

CM, can you tell me about the monument in Nabadon?

Oh, Eve, well. I hope to have placed some monuments in the people's hearts, by a share of myself. Finally, after I returned to Salvington – having passed the Worlds of Morontia, I found this monument waiting for me.

You know, my impressions from the way I went out of body were still very fresh and uploaded with emotion, and then I found this arranged „welcome back“ party with a monument reflecting the most painful instrument, bound into a circle around. It was like a bad joke and my feelings were similar like when I entered the room for the last supper and found the disciples arguing. This monument will not last, and I feel weariness and disappointment when I look at it.

Thanks CM!

15. MAKE · TRUTH · AVAILABLE · TO · THE · PUBLIC

24.4.2013

Good morning, Eve, you have made some investigations into this topic, I see. Heard you shouting something like Nonononononoooo..... but you have also questioned for what purpose you now have found out. Did you seriously expect to find out – as the only few people on this planet – something like this... just for not doing anything with it? I have let you have some time to make up your mind and now we must take the next step. As Esu said: TRUTH IS AVAILABLE HERE. We must make this truth available to others, too. That's just fair, isn't it? Remember what I pointed out to be the 3 main virtues of Nebadon.... LOVE, TRUTH, FAITH.

Is it love to hide the truth? Some would say YES, but I tell you that love must match the needs of the situation. Sooner or later people of Nebadon – which includes this planet – must have a chance to be confronted with truth, some would call it a curse, but I'd call it tough love. Sleep and closed eyes cannot go on in all eternity. Truth was available to you as you were searching for it and now I decree that you should make it available to this planet.

Will we not encourage hopelessness by this? And anyway .... what can people do with this ... down here... learning that the universe is not the super dooper place to be... that corruption has infiltrated all levels up to the master spirits? The souls might not wish to return, and you might loose seed!

I see your point, Eve. But the seed I want shall be resistant to weeds, it shall be resistant to be frozen up and it shall be resistant to draught. Plus, as I told you, truth cannot be compromised. To tidy up just this planet will just be a drop of rain in the desert. Nebadon cannot go on living with a fundamental lie.

Why do you think that quite so many of my direct brothers are now incarnate.... NOT just for observing and watching.... we wanted to increase to find out about what's going on upon a large scale. Now you are lucky enough to have ... your little team now representing the Phoenix coming out of the ashes alive.

Don't expect too much of this, CM! If that story goes public, the storytellers will be daemonized all over this world, the dark will celebrate this suiting them fine.... and if you somehow don't manage to turn off the light here, we could easily call that a suicide attempt in full knowing...

This is just one thing which can happen. It could also happen that some would listen up with a „cool story bro' – tell it again!“ Ok, Eve, I'm agreeing with your suggestions of how to make this manifest.

Do you have BigS under control?

I'd say we have, but we are not relaxing in this issue. You know investigations are now triggered in the great universe and big discussions are going on everywhere. Ok, before I forget about.... you have heard that correctly: Pentecost is the perfect date to spread! Blessings to all of you and my special honoratio for your courage and support!

This is your CM, Big Cheese of Nebadon

16. OFFICIAL INDICTION

BY EVE

1st February 2013

This is addressed to the highest source of the great universe, the Eternal Father, Papa Source, the divine trinity of paradise, to all of his faithful ones, the Ancients of the Days, to everybody dealing with Leadership and to everybody else whom it may concern. This is from Eve Kumara, mighty messenger in an ascending sonship of Christ Michael of Nebadon, member of the order of Kumaras under Sanat Kumara, presently incarnate by birth on the planet of Urantia, seed planet of the sovereign of Nebadon, in direct cooperation with Christ Michael, Sananda Esu Immanuel Kumara and his inner core team, currently regional director for northern Europe of the second coming organization of AbundantHope.

I point out that I'm taking own and full responsibility for this indictment, without any involvement of the AH worldwide presidentship. Being incarnate by birth and working for the Second Coming of our Sovereign, CM of Nebadon and the spiritual hierarchy of this local universe, I cannot do otherwise than to document my perception of the situation. It is the will of the Eternal Father that a creator son after his 7th self bestowal shall be sovereign.

Christ Michael still seems to be hindered in his sovereignty by the hierarchy ruling the superuniverse of Orvonton. There are hints that the well-known "Lucifer-rebellion" was either set up as a hoax or otherwise triggered from backstage to gain proof that the expanded concept which Christ Michael has determined for his creation is not and will never be successful. Incredible pain and suffering has been caused to the seed planet of Urantia plus her inhabitants, promises were broken which has caused a lack of trust to the people on the planet.

There are hints that a complete branch of CM sons – the teacher sons of the Melchisedeks – have been triggered from backstage forces to solidarize against their Father, commonly with the over ruler of this superuniverse of Orvonton, the master spirit Siraya.

There are hints that there is intentional long- and short-term sabotage to the plans by which Christ Michael intends to end the misery on Urantia, there are hints that there is mind control to other Michael Sons via a monument placed on CMs main sphere of Salvington

there are hints that this Monument serves as a prison for an important witness whom I suppose to be Lucifer

there are hints about having tried to trigger the way how CMs last self bestowal on Urantia ended by the crucifixion, there are hints about untruth being spread by the "book of Urantia" which was set up for the education of the Urantia inhabitants

there was a stealing of the degree of descending sonship of the life bringer sons Adam and Eve involved in the race improvement program of Urantia

there was intentional non-reacting on various serious problems brought to the knowledge of the board of divine advisors while Christ Michael was not yet sovereign which has also caused immense suffering and loss of souls

there are hints that planetary midwayers have been used and abused for projects which were against CMs concept and plans on this planet

there are hints on corruption and dictatorship and obviously an offer brought to CM while doing his 7th self bestowal, that he might keep the seed planet of Urantia should he be willing to give up the rest of his creation and surrender it to a “big Wig” called “Teufel” on Urantia. I conclude that this was neither the former planetary prince Caligastia, nor Satan, right hand of Lucifer, as both were servants there are hints that CM was put under pressure by the headforce of Orvonton and forced to cooperate.

There are hints that further superuniverses are under rulership of a hierarchy following an own agenda rather than the concept of the Prime Creator Source.

If any of these hints can be undermined by proof after truthful and detailed research, evidently the will of the Eternal Father would not have been followed – which could be named an intentional rebellion.

I point out that to me it is currently impossible to collect suitable evidence – other than from talking to Christ Michael himself and counting two plus two.

The basis I’m speaking from is the one of an Agondonter.

I declare that the will of the Eternal Father and Prime Creator is superior priority to me in my service, and that I stand in for Christ Michael doing the same.

I declare that I have personally advised Siraya, master spirit of Orvonton, to leave Nebadon.

I ask, I suggest – I furthermore STRONGLY RECOMMEND detailed research to gain proof – and as a first step of immediate result order the Orvonton rulers out of Nebadon, so that Christ Michael will no more be hindered in his concept or decisions.

I call upon you and encourage you for the sake of the Great Universe to take a deep going into the matter of facts in order to make sure that the will of the Prime Creator is being followed.

I demand research on the monument placed on Salvington.

I demand that this monument shall be opened and carefully torn down, to gain evidence about it’s content.

It’s against universal law to bury living beings.

Shall it be evident that Lucifer was buried alive inside the monument the initiators must be held responsible.

I plead that his case shall be reopened at the courtyards of Orvonton and be researched on the basis of a new background.

I hint that Christ Michael of Nebadon wishes that justice shall reign according to the will of the Prime Creator Source and that it’s his wish to reintegrate his beloved son into the garments of love Nebadon is founded upon, and that truth about what really happened will reach every ear and heart prepared to listen.

Introduction:

Eve: When I was about to close my laptop, deep in the night, a new energy was asking to be heard by me. The picture of my visual mind screen showed a very handsome male being with a real humble radiation of an individualist, the voice sounded soft and calm. I saw him at some kind of desk at work, and in his face the touch of a smile seemingly wanted to manifest, but he seemed to be a bit too shy to allow it.

17. LUCIFER SPEAKS

June 8th, 2013

I AM

STILL I AM

I DECLARE

THAT I HAVE ALWAYS BEEN STRIVING

TO BE ALIGNED WITH PAPA SOURCE,

AS YOU CALL HIM SO LOVINGLY

AND WITH MY BELOVED FATHER

CHRIST MICHAEL ATON OF NEBADON.

RECENTLY I HAVE BEEN SAVED FROM INCREDIBLE HARM

I HAVE BEEN SAVED TO COME HOME TO THE RIGHT PLACE

MY DEEPEST GRATITUDE IS WITH THOSE WHO WERE INVOLVED IN THIS PROCESS AND WHO TAKE HEART AND MAKE IT PUBLIC ALTHROUGH THE UNIVERSES

I'M DOING MY PART ... I'M WRITING THE DELETED ARCHIVES ANEW.

I AM AGAIN BEARING WITNESS OF HOW THINGS WERE HAPPENING

I AM AGAIN BEARING WITNESS OF INTENTIONAL DENIAL OF ASSISTANCE BY THE ADMINISTRATIVE HIRARCHIES WHEN EVIL STARTED TO SPREAD QUICKER THAN ASSUMED AND OF HINDERED INTERFEARANCE AND EVEN SABOTAGE OF FORCES WILLING TO HELP.

IT WAS NOT ONLY THIS LITTLE SEED PLANET OF URANTIA BEING PUT AT RISK, RISK WAS ABOUT THE EXISTANCE OF NEBADON.

INSPITE OF A CALUMNY OF SORTS I WILL NOT CHANGE MY NAME

MY NAME IS LUCIFER, BRINGER OF THE LIGHT

AND LIGHT WE WILL BRING INTO THE DARKNESS

IN SUPPORT OF OUR SOVEREIGN.

THE ONES RESPONSIBLE FOR THE BIG MESSING AROUND WITH MY FATHERS CREATION WILL BE HELD RESPONSIBLE IN A FAIR WAY AND BECOME ENCOURAGED TO GAIN INSIGHT AND LEARN FROM HISTORY.

ALL QUESTIONS MUST BE ANSWERED ACCORDING TO THE TRUTH

IT IS NOT REVENGE WHICH I SEEK

BUT CLEARING NEBADON OF EVIL

AND FINDING PEACE IN FORGIVING

FINALLY

WHEN LOVE HAS AGAIN BEEN INTEGRATED

AND TRUELY UNDERSTOOD BY HEART.

THANK YOU FOR HEARING ME.

LUCIFER

Son of Christ Michael Aton of Nebadon

order of the Lanonandeks.

18. MY APOLOGIES WITH LUCIFER

24th June 2013

Esu offered me a mind trip, but I have to do something else first.... apologize with Lucifer, trying to get in touch with him. I hear a soft and gentle voice and on the display of my mind a charismatic person appears. He has big eyes, same as Esu, and a face of classic beauty, reminding me of the Greek sculptures. He looks like being much individualist, a philosopher, but an expression of harm has not yet vanished from his face. He tries to smile, I see it's still difficult for him.

„Hello Eve,“ he welcomes me. „ You see, it's still difficult for me to smile... I hope you don't mind...“

I shake my head. „Never mind. I'm grateful to find you well and not insane, which I think was not too far away to happen.“

He tries again to smile, but at the same time his mouth is lifting up, tears start to flow down from his eyes, as if smile and tears were coupled. „Eve,“ he continues. „I'm so incredible thankful for all that you and your little team have done for me.“

I go down on my knees and say: „Lucifer, I have come to apologize for I needed much too long to direct my thoughts in the correct direction. Please forgive me that I have prolonged your suffering... please forgive me that I have believed in the intrigue I was told about. To go public with that now was the least I could do for you.“

Lucifers tears start running down his cheeks, while he kneels down, too and bows his head. „Who am I to have you on your knees in front of me, dear Eve, for being the most encouraged lady warrior I have ever seen. I had not perceived you before, back then, when I was still the „sovereign over Satania“. I had never dreamt about my Father's creation bringing forth ascending sons like you .... How happy am I to meet you now...“ He softly reaches out to take me in his arms and while we are still both on our knees we hug and stay like this for a very long time.

„They have told everybody I had denied to come home into the arms of my beloved Father..“ he says voiceless. „But in fact I never left home.... they used my name for cruelties and vandalism to my Father's creation, by encouraging artificial life... believe me, Eve... I have never ever strived to be a creator or God... all I did was criticism of the high universal ranks who tried so obviously to mess around with my Father's concept of creation. The „Law of not interfering“ was led „ad absurdum“ – until it turned against light and life. At this time back then I had successfully been managing my planetary system for a longer period.

I had pretty much understood my Father's concept. And I had understood that he was aligned with Papa Source. So I was standing up to publicly tell what nobody else had the heart to do. I'm still missing the words about what happend then. It was a complete embargo set active against me and my people. They must have put CM's seals on some documents he has never seen.

Contact between my Father and me was completely disabled. They got my seal, too, to put it on destructive orders, to make it look like my decrees. I have even heard, Eve, that a double – a clone of artificial intelligence – had been created and programmed to travel around and infiltrate universal citizens. I have no idea, Eve, how such a degree of meannness can move into these high administrative ranks.

Eve, after this experience I was done with everything, to me it looked hopeless. I wasn't even sure about my Father, whom I met the last time at the Orvonton courts, where his influence seemed to be like zero, they made him a nincompoop, but at least I saw from his face that he was overcome by mental torture and I felt he loved me. I had already asked to be uncreated, which must have caused additional horror to my Father.“

„Would the planet of the void not have been an option for you?“

„No, because some of them KNEW that I was not guilty of their accusation. The planet of the void would not have done anything to and with me, except from getting me out of their way. They wanted to make me cooperative with their godless plans which they called to „come home“ – they wanted to „break“ me.

After Papa Source had decreed that I must not be uncreated this option was missing to them, but they did not tell me. They also did not tell it to the public. They simply let me „disappear“ into this monument they had created to ridicule my Father after his last self-bestowal.

You know, Eve, my Father was in a felt need to become sovereign, as he thought he could then better solve the problems with his visitors. But they denied to leave, and they used the monument for putting him under pressure. They said they had means to blow it from a long distance, which would look like an accident, leading to my automatic uncreation.“

„GOSH – THIS IS A CRIME STORY!“

„Yes, pretty much. And I tell you, Eve, would my father not be such a genius and would he not have had warriors like you, the Kumaras and a few of his brothers, I’d still be walking the edge between being alive and uncreated, entrapped in the darkness. Meanness of certain forces starts to be exposed now and it leaves most of the people speechless.“

He slowly gets on his feet again and pulls me up, too.

„I’m so glad you are alive, Lucifer“ I say softly.

„I’ll never cease to bring light into darkness“, he replies. „My Father told me, the sentence about me was now being revoked and that my case is now being unfolded anew.“

„Do you have a lawyer?“

Lucifer smiles. (works better this time) „Yes, YOU!.... Just joking, Eve. I’ going to be my own lawyer and this time Christ Michael’s voice as a sovereign will have more weight. And more are now couraged enough to speak out. If they offer it to me, I’m going to work again as the head of the Satania System.“

„I could imagine that CM wants to gift you with an own universe....“

„Perhaps yes, Eve... we will see.... as you always say, eternity is quite long, especially when approaching it’s end...“

He places my hand upon his heart space and I do the same with his hand on mine.

19. DIALOG WITH LUCIFER

on Sunday, 28.07.2013 at 9 pm

Lucifer through Michael Christ

I prepared myself for the meditation and immediately felt that someone was contacting me and this someone also revealed himself right away: Lucifer. I could therefore no longer perform a meditation as suggested by Randy.

Hi Lucifer, there you are again.

Hi my friend, yes. It's time to talk again.

Lucifer, I've been wondering the same thing over and over again lately, and now I'd like to put the question to you: How did it happen that Urantia could go so deep into God-remoteness, so deep into lower matter?

For this, I have to elaborate a bit. You have understood and internalized the findings of Beyond, and I am building on that. In the Urantia Book, so many things were twisted, so many lies were added and so much truth was left out that everything written about me and my followers is only for confusion. Basically, you can consider what was written in the UB about me and my followers as "rebels" as a confusion-creating lie. That's all it is. But I cannot and will not blame the responsible writer. For that it is now the time to expose these lies, so that the truth can triumph.

We, first of all Caligastia, Daligastia, Satan, Belzebub and I, were very quickly taken out of circulation. We were captured shortly after my proclamation and imprisoned with no means of contact with the outside world. Clones were made of each of us that were so deceptively real that almost everyone fell for them.

Never, never would I or my followers, never would we have betrayed our beloved father CM! We knew that he was and is in direct contact with the creator source. I have only accused the manipulations of the universal administration. I have "dared" to say that the Master Spirit is NOT identical with the Creator Source. I have been able to open the eyes of many with my findings, who have then been able to open further eyes. My beloved father knew all this. But he was not yet Sovereign.

And then the most vile "teaching" was spread in my name: that of guilt and redemption. Whoever initiated and spread this, loaded a huge consequence on his shoulders. Your whole planet has thereby descended into the farthest God-remoteness and deepest matter, which until then was not imaginable, even for us.

Caligastia never worked against Adam. The one reported in the UB was a clone who appeared instead of Caligastia.

It was also neither I nor Caligastia nor any other of my followers who made this dastardly offer to CM in the desert. This was all so incredibly skillfully foisted upon us. By what authority could I have made such an offer to my beloved father? Me?

There were 2 other so-called rebellions before these events. What has it to do with these?

Yes, these were already two attempts to point out the conditions of the universal government at that time. But at that time my father had not even started his first bestowal. People at that time could not succeed with it for many reasons. There were too few supporters for these realizations and those few were cruelly beaten down. Twice.

It is not easy now to recognize those who were sold and foisted upon us as the evil ones, names like Satan and Belzebub, as champions of law and order, of CM and the Creator Source.

You all have to go through this. Whoever wants to get to the truth will not get around these realizations. I have no idea at this time if Caligastia and the others will be called back to their old and rightful positions, this is all a decision of our beloved Father CM who is in complete alignment with the Creator Source.

I still have a lot of work to do, I have many libraries to go through. Much of the records were scattered all over the big universe, so that no one could find them and perhaps piece together the puzzle. Much has been irretrievably lost and I can only derive evidence from third party documents. But that will be enough. Finally, you Agondonter have also made an unimaginably great achievement, which also flows into the chain of evidence.

One last question about my position at this time, if I can.

Gladly.

Which side was I on? When I took my oath of allegiance, my vow, my pledge of allegiance to CM, what did it refer to?

You were already then ... and put yourself in the service of CM and many others ... likewise. You and also the others could not be fooled by the Master Spirit who he intends to be. All of you ... You could not be fooled ... The only thing you can be fooled with is that you can be befuddled here on Urantia, because you have to forget your origin, who and what you are, in order to be here. Some, like Candace and others, have been successfully befuddled. They have failed for this mission. You, however, have not been fooled in the 3D dress either.

You made that pledge to CM then, recognizing that HE, not the universal government and not the Master Spirit, is in constant and full connection with the Creator Source. You have clearly decided for CM.

So, am I a rebel?

Rebel? Your humor is not easy to understand. You are a ... of ... on the way to ... who stands up for the truth. "Rebellious" is not what I would call it.

You are many fighters for my beloved Father. Keep your eyes and ears open and CM in your hearts. The indictment will be ready soon.

You know you can always ask me for help with this.

Yes, it is not fun in this density, but you are more protected than you are above. So fight from your position.

All right. Thank you for your time.

See you soon.

20. THE DARK SPHERES

Lucifer through Eve, 23rd September 2013

Lucifer, I'm coming to pick up the piece you announced!

Good morning, Eve, my dearest- This is Lucifer speaking. Well, yes, I thought to update a bit for those who are interested in universal background, not just planetary affairs. I have recovered quite fine from my torture – I'm about to be officially heard and restored, so it's the least I can do to tell you folks about what's going on in „space“.

You might remember from BEYOND that the universe is not just glamour and glitter, and that not even all that glitters is gold, so to say. You might even know about that, but not about details.... and for some it's either not of importance, while it may be essential to know for others.

Basically, let's say, it's good to stay grounded and realistic, because illusion is a dangerous field. Remember, as above, so below and vice versa.

If you ignore the importance of remaining grounded, you either pay with your life or you get „lost in translation“, as your phrase goes. My beloved father CM has referred to you about the importance of truth and the need to look at it, into detail, couraged and brave-hearted, as how can you ever contribute to improve things if you prefer to drift along sitting on clouds simply not looking at what's below!

Amazingly, many of you are fascinated by the star wars movies, and if you just realized these are more documentation than fiction you will be one step further. Pls. Forgive me this long introduction.

To start with the details we have to go back to the point when a young Michael son is allowed to step into the process of creating his own universe. Logically, new local universes are added at the peripherals of the Great Universe – in the according Super Universe. To make room is not the point, as there's room enough, but the room must be cultivated from raw space into building space. This comprises primarily activities of specialized energy conductors, who are building and sorting out energetic „lanes“- so that the Michael son receives a structured building ground to start. You know, when you plan to build a house down there, you must first work on the ground, make it plain, or dig out space for the cellar etc.... prepare places for street lights, energy supply, water supply.... these activities are always being done with permission of Papa Source.

As we have compared before, these new building spaces at the peripherals – as well as the brand new local universes – are handled or named the „Wild West“ of the Universe, to use one of your expressions according to what I want to say – and this is always attractive space for adventurers and unfortunately also for dark forces. Some of these dark forces have illegally built artificial spheres in „Nowhereland“ – which were never designed to reflect the Glory of the Eternal Father.

These spheres are brood-places of evil and horror, places of torture, of dark experiments – and they are hidden and embedded in energetic fault lines and dimensional shifts. Just very few victims hijacked into these places have ever made it back from there, – and if they did, it was mainly not resulting from own forces, but from special troops striking after having located such illegal spheres.

You might compare that with the underground activities of you NWO folks – like Area 51, Montauk and similar subground bases, which are officially denied to exist. Some forces in Universe are denying existence of these godless places either, seeding disbelief and doubts, as soon as discussions about these places start to develop – and this mostly happens when energy conductors start to cultivate space for a new local universe and discover a hidden horror sphere.

It happens, however, that they don't discover it, as the hiding took place so tricky – which causes young Michael sons to be confronted with them only later. Sooner or later there's a showing up of a „blind passenger sphere of darkness“ in their new local universe – and this is a real „shit situation“ for an unexperienced Michael son. Even Nebadon has a few spheres of that sort. Currently, some souls are incarnate on Urantia, who still have and carry experiences from being tortured on one of these spheres. It also happens that controllers of such kind of spheres step into material worlds as this one here, as it was done by a person you call „the richest man of this world“.

I need to say it here, it has happened that uncomfortable universal personalities just disappeared – some were found, and some are still missing. Especially those in connection with revealing truth about the false flag event of the so called Lucifer rebellion seem to be missing in larger numbers. So far you might have thought that the planet of void was the worst thing which could happen to you, but I tell you, compared with what's going on at the dark spheres it's a nice vacation there.

As we know about souls of the light being captured on these spheres we cannot just go ahead and blow the dark sphere after locating it. Clearing Space from this kind of mean existence is a complicated job.

So, when my father created Nebadon, he was not yet aware of the rotten eggs he was about to find embarked in his local universe.

Interested persons will certainly raise the question when and how evil ever had a chance to start, or who's to blame. But I tell you, regarding the situation as it is now, it does not make any sense blaming anybody. Research and experiences will always remain main factors in the process of creation and there's always risk, challenges etc. when things move along on the road of evolution. Man – may it be universal or material – grows in solving problems. Creator sons are no exception. If one decides to learn from experiences, it's essential to have a look on the complete scale of such, rather than to ignore the uncomfortable spectrum.

Now, what's new in the latest revelations? It's that evil has climbed into levels nobody had ever thought about, even without being massively promoted. Just by not being prevented and blocked early enough. So, there must be new discussions on the „laissez-faire“ attitude and not only discussions – but also deeds. Just watching evil without intervening is almost like participating. And hindering the responsible ones to intervene is definitely participation. You might not realize but even Papa Source intervenes. Your UB states that it's not allowed to ask about what's going on at DIVININGTON, and nobody knew about. Well, beloveds, your decision. To ask or not to ask – Papa Source is neither blind nor deaf, and he would perhaps answer you if you ask him about Divinington – unless you decide to be a „good universal sheep“ and to shut up. Well, of course, you can make up your own mind before asking. So, People, go ahead and do your homework!

So far, the success of BEYOND has been higher in universe than on the planet, which is a result from density. As it was to be expected, certain forces have started efforts to tell the people still I had been uncreated, and sadly they used the name of my beloved mother Nebadonia to sign this fake statement. Yes, just have another cookie. Impressingly, Nebadonia seems to talk lightheartedly about the uncreation of her son Lucifer, do you really think that the mother of this local universe could come over suchlike with zero empathy or expression about such a kind of tragedy.

Eve: I see, CM was never able to speak about this topic without feelable pain, as a tragedy it WAS, even if you are now well and still in creation. – So why should Nebadonia make it a chit-chat topic for an afternoon teatime with cookies she's having together with other string puppets, just freshly coming out of a box labeled „reserve characters almost unused“.

Lucifer smiles: Smiling is already working better now, as you see, Eve. I certainly have reasons to smile again, and I can tell you that to me it feels like great mercy to be able to. What did you compare it with, recently?

I think with a sunrise in a face.

Well, some situations demand courage to smile, but courage is an important ingredient to the fabrics of love. I'd suggest, we keep giving courage a chance, not for the goal of becoming a hero, but for the goal of efficient service to the Father! Take care, beloveds, this is all for today, brave hearts, ...

I AM Lucifer.

21. PLEASE THINK OUT OF THE BOX

Christ Michael

through Eve

20th June 2013

Good morning Eve, this is CM. A few days after publishing BEYOND it's now time to make some comments on the situation.

At first, please take again my deepest gratitude for speaking out things of which some forces had never dreamt they'd ever come rolling over anybody's tongue, leading inevitably to reactions which were more or less expected. We have been closely observing reactions and while I'm pleased to say they have come out to be more positive, WAY more positive than expected, there are some hardliners who have not seemed to move – not even slightly – which is regrettable.

BEYOND is a great chance to think out of the box, an open window of opportunity to view things from a different perspective. And sooner or later you MUST think out of the box. Have we not told you more than one time that many of you who are reading here are not uneducated seekers but having some considerable universal careers in the background?

21.1 Fundamentalism

So, it cannot be about waiting until some kind of fundamentalism shows up at your horizon to nail you again to a matrix of having to be „good sheep“. It was more than one time when I tried to explain to you how my creation is meant to work. My creation has a strong focus on evolution – and fundamentalism is death to any kind of real evolution. You can see that many times, reviewing your history, how downward spirals are being entered by civilizations manifesting fundamentalism.

Perhaps some of you are now pondering where their connection is in regard of fundamentalism. Let me explain further.

There are those among you who see the Book of Urantia as a fundamentalistic work. I'd say, it has turned out to be a great foundation, it contains much truth, but as Monjoronson recently told you – adaptations have to be made, left out things told, incorrect statements deleted – ... as there was intentional fake included... so also with the UB it's essential to think out of the box.

In BEYOND we have taken some efforts to grant you a better understanding – now, some try to prove Eve being wrong by reciting the UB. This is pretty much fundamentalistic, isn't it?

Especially, as you were already TOLD in BEYOND, that even the UB should not be regarded as something carved in stone. Some of you say: This is not how creation works. So, dear ones,... you are telling me how creation works?

There are myriads of ways how creation works, explored ways and other ways which still need to be explored. But there's a basic concept to my creation – while love and humility is the common denominator to every creation as decreed by Papa Source.

Sometimes, if there's harm to creation, tough love has to be applied. I was about to apply it, unfortunately some were not pleased by that. But you cannot simply take the cure for different concepts and expect it to work on another concept being totally different.

You, beloveds, you NEED to think out of the box, as this is the foreseen concept of my creation of Nebadon.

21.2 Gurus

There is still a tendency to look for gurus.

But looking for guru's is hindering your development. Nobody will spare you from making up your mind finally and if you deny that, you're going to find yourselves in a dead end. A guru is not always a person, it can as well be a certain philosophy or mind construct. It can even be implanted fear about an enemy just in your head, a mere image which you bought. Whatever your guru is, – it binds your forces and makes you glued to something which is then in control over you, as long as you don't recognize and stand up to be free again.

21.3 Rather makers than matchers

Beloveds, universe is not in need of slaves. The „be a good dog and get a reward“ system is not the basis of my creation. Commitment to Papa Source including 100% service must grow inside your hearts and it must be fed with the intelligence of the soul, so that talking about the flame of love can be literally felt in every word you say, otherwise you make words become hollow shells. It's not about performing service in order to be rewarded by anything, a heart carrying the ignited divine flame will find fulfillment by being in service, humbly and pure, and once it is like this, divine gold will come raining down on you to overwhelm you with bliss.

Before I get too poetic now, let me try to express it more in a „get real“ way. I wish to have originals, not copies. I wish to have people around in my universe who are rather makers than matchers. Once you are truly anchored in the divine, growth must be allowed beyond intervening a washing machine. The basics needed for this are an idea about my idea of creation. It's helpful to research here. Now – as it is with archaeology – if you dig through the dirt and layers of soil it may happen that you find relicts – old tombs or even buildings – or monuments.

21.4 Hard times for pioneers

CM: Well, Eve, something about the importance of a monument was stored in your DNA. You know there was some mystery to be revealed, but you had never dreamt that you had to move far away into the density of matter to finally be able to get to the core of the mystery. As you will have realized, Eve, pioneers do mostly have a hard time.

In the history of Urantia there were times when people believed that earth was a disc, and then an ingenious mastermind incarnate found out that earth was a globe. Many scientists and inventors have been ridiculed for their new insight, this has not changed until this day, but they all had something in common:

THEY WERE ABLE TO THINK OUT OF THE BOX!

Whenever you get the impression that somebody wants to hinder you to do so, something is wrong, VERY WRONG.

Mankind is in NEED of pioneers.... while having heard and accepted meanwhile that this planet is a globe, mankind might still believe that universe is a simple construct with God's office in one corner and him pulling the strings to fight his bore. But you must come to understand that there is so much more and that Papa Source does not strive to gain orgasmic feelings from being praised and adored by submissive subjects rolling around in the dust of some planetary floor.

21.5 Misuse of education as a prison of mind

Having a look at your education system, what do you see? They want your kids to get conform in thinking and believing lies about reality, so that the system can be fed with good slaves.

Even as worse as entrapping the body into a prison is entrapping mind into a matrix. Good education encourages individualism, to find out more, to stretch out wings to fly. The contrary of that cuts the wings of an individuum in order to fix it and tie it to the ground.

Teaching is about being a wayshower.

And of course, teachers must be discerning people being able to think out of the box. Equal what you explore – enjoy your fascination about it, but make up your own research about it.

21.6 Put your crutches away

Certainly, thinking out of the box is not „everybody's cup of tea“. I cannot force you to do so if the needed maturity triggering that has not yet been developed by an individuum, but I'm always offering to you my direct guidance.

Now, Eve, let's close the topic for today, and thanks again for your couraged „thinking out of the box“. I hope more people will embrace this inspiration as a support to develop a stronger character aligned with divine ethics and moral, so that they might finally be able to put their „crutches“ aside and start walking without them in a strong and upright manner as it has been defined for all citizens of Nebadon.

Salu, this is your Big Cheese, CM Aton

In connection with JENSEITS/BEYOND and further questions because of the obvious aberrations that exist in the heavenly organization and hierarchies, the question of a possible complicity or participation of Creator Sons arose.

This led us to new insights, findings and ultimately to important actions, which we summarize here:

22. Another chapter on BEYOND

April 08, 2014

Creator sons are not intriguers and do not cooperate with these dark cosmic aberrations. On the contrary: the Creator Sons are one of the main targets of the dark intrigues!

Many beings in the outer worlds don't really know what is going on. They think that it all must be so. The whole dark number is extremely cleverly arranged and implemented. The vast majority of the beings in the seven superuniverses let themselves be manipulated and instrumentalized and still think that they are doing a great and important and godly work.

Only by and since the accusations in BEYOND/JENSEITS nothing is more like it was. However, there still lies for eons reappraisal and uncovering before us. And this process of the reappraisal runs officially since the cosmic creation-wide publication of BEYOND.

But what was not clear to us at this time: how extremely big and ingenious the whole thing is laid out. For this everything had to be orchestrated very carefully by the wire-pullers of the dark ones in the previous construct of the creation with its seven superuniverses. One of the goals was to steer the development of the seven superuniverses in such a way that these never arrive in light and love for the time being.

If the development of the seven superuniverses is completed one day, then further superuniverses are added around them. From this time on, however, the self-made power structure of the dark ones would be in danger, because then it would be no longer controllable for the involved ones. And therefore everything had to be done to prevent this for the time being. But very subtle...

One of the most unpredictable factors are the Michaels. They have the creator potential, they have the sovereignty from a certain point of development and further, not yet revealed abilities and potentials for the next development stages. Therefore the creator sons had to be kept small and willing by threat and other means in any case.

The older Michaels have in their disposition no means to resist this dark intrigue without using radical solutions. Only much later guys like Christ Michael Aton (CM) were created, who have a much greater potential to solve this problem. If he succeeds, then all the opponents have not achieved their goal.

But beware, the dark ones are numerous and the whole thing does not happen overnight. Christ Michael Aton and a whole 'series' of Michaels have been created with special potentials for exactly this reason.

Here we insert an excerpt from The Urantia Book (UB) about the Michaels:

Quote (UB): Origin and nature of the Creator Sons

(234.6) 21:1.1 When the fullness of absolute spiritual ideation in the Eternal Son encounters the fullness of absolute personality concept in the Universal Father, when such a creative union is finally and fully attained, when such absolute identity of spirit and such infinite oneness of personality concept occur, then, right then and there, without the loss of anything of personality or prerogative by either of the infinite Deities, there flashes into full-fledged being a new and original Creator Son, the only-begotten Son of the perfect ideal and the powerful idea whose union produces this new creator personality of power and perfection.

(235.1) 21:1.2 Each Creator Son is the only-begotten and only-begettable offspring of the perfect union of the original concepts of the two infinite and eternal and perfect minds of the ever-existent Creators of the universe of universes. There never can be another such Son because each Creator Son is the unqualified, finished, and final expression and embodiment of all of every phase of every feature of every possibility of every divine reality that could, throughout all eternity, ever be found in, expressed by, or evolved from, those divine creative potentials which united to bring this Michael Son into existence. Each Creator Son is the absolute of the united deity concepts which constitute his divine origin.

(235.2) 21:1.3 The divine natures of these Creator Sons are, in principle, derived equally from the attributes of both Paradise parents. All partake of the fullness of the divine nature of the Universal Father and of the creative prerogatives of the Eternal Son, but as we observe the practical outworking of the Michael functions in the universes, we discern apparent differences. Some Creator Sons appear to be more like God the Father; others more like God the Son. For example: The trend of administration in the universe of Nebadon suggests that its Creator and ruling Son is one whose nature and character more resemble that of the Eternal Mother Son. It should be further stated that some universes are presided over by Paradise Michaels who appear equally to resemble God the Father and God the Son. And these observations are in no sense implied criticisms; they are simply a recording of fact.

(235.3) 21:1.4 I do not know the exact number of Creator Sons in existence, but I have good reasons for believing that there are more than seven hundred thousand. Now, we know that there are exactly seven hundred thousand Unions of Days and no more are being created. We also observe that the ordained plans of the present universe age seem to indicate that one Union of Days is to be stationed in each local universe as the counseling ambassador of the Trinity. We note further that the constantly increasing number of Creator Sons already exceeds the stationary number of the Unions of Days. But concerning the destiny of the Michaels beyond seven hundred thousand, we have never been informed.

22.1 The liberating strike of light against the network of fear

What is taking place right now is the liberation strike of light against the network of fear. But the work is now only really beginning. And the path for redemption and liberation is now open on Urantia.

But: There is a logic and timeline of the course of events inherent in the things and developments, which must be followed and kept!!!

After the indictment against all beings of the outer worlds (indictment for disregarding the will of the Father and the highest good and benefit of all, more about this below), the Sons of Michael have decided to advance this indictment together with all their strength. This indictment stirs everything up, and only now do the Sons of Michael also have the opportunity to take official action.

Due to the puzzled rules of behavior, a kind of hypocritical political correctness in the dealings of the celestial hierarchies, because one never really knows who works for which side, keeping quiet was the only feasible way for many Creator Sons. By the way, already this form of consequently calculated distrust is part of the agenda of the dark ones and everything else than wanted by God.

All, at least the master sons

(= See chapter 3 (238.9) 21:3.15 Before the completion of the bestowal career a Creator Son rules with certain self-imposed limitations of sovereignty, but subsequent to his finished bestowal service he rules by virtue of his actual experience in the form and likeness of his manifold creatures. When a Creator has seven times sojourned among his creatures, when the bestowal career is finished, then is he supremely settled in universe authority; he has become a Master Son, a sovereign and supreme ruler.)

knew about the possibilities decided and wanted by the Father to bring this creation on the right path. Now also they can act and help out. Sometimes it is quite complicated, but we are talking about inconceivable dimensions.

Papa Source had decided not to take the club and also not the total annihilation (which would be quite possible and can be read as serious option at Jacob Lorber). He wanted to create it by types like CM Aton from the inside. And this whole number runs now therefore already since hundreds of millions of earth years ...

The process started with BEYOND comes to rest now and then to be suddenly revived sometime. At present there is again movement in the number, sometimes more sometimes less violently. When searching and asking, it is of course an advantage to be able to ask directly yourself. Often only in the old known yes-no manner. So the search method needle - haystack. However, the method has proven itself and one learns to deal with it.

In the last great push of the search for answers, at a certain point of the process, only the search for a solution that includes everyone remained. Thus it came then to the general accusation against all beings of the external worlds. The fuss and the consequences are probably considerable.

So probably first extra special courts had to come, so that also the beings working in the courts show their colors and prove to whom and how they serve the will of the father and the highest welfare and benefit of all.

But probably the greatest shock has been caused by the fact that the beings from the network of fear did not know that behind the record known to us as Akashachronik there are still direct copies of the original information which has not been manipulated. They did not expect this and are now quite dismayed and confused.

22.2 The development of own structures, which do not correspond to the will of the father

And to make it again clear: Nebadon (our local universe) has been created in order to bring the entire outer worlds back on track at some point in the course of its development. Christ Michael Aton is an extremely clever specimen of these sons of Michael. But also he always had to act within the scope of the feasible possibilities. Magic tricks do not exist!

Hence, the constant attacks, humiliations, obstructions and, and, and ... They have instrumentalized a whole son order of him, kidnapped his servants, tormented, blackmailed him, covered him with false trials and left out nothing to sabotage him and his mission.

But all of them always had the big goal in mind and nothing could really stop the continuing path for a longer period of time. Of course it is also about Urantia and Nebadon, but the big goal of the action are the presently existing outer worlds.

Of course, it is not only the Sons of Michael who are the target of this network of fear. Therefore a little more about it.

Since BEYOND it is clear to us down here that there 'ABOVE' some things can't be quite so right. Cause for the detective process was and is our halfway common sense in deed unit with plentifully 'want to know'.

At the beginning we didn't realize that we were entering open doors. But we quickly realized that this was exactly what the team around Christ Michael Aton wanted so much. The result is well known and documented in BEYOND. Work in a small team, process-like, in constant exchange, on many different construction sites. Sometimes breathlessly rushed from one second to the next and so on and on.

An incredibly intense time. Work in silence and as secretly as it was possible. Then the release - pretty snotty and without respect or wavering towards the celestial hierarchy. However, we also knew that we might not survive it. There were whole armies moving in, small commandos, there were attacks of an energetic nature every hour.

But fortunately the Kumaras, the midwayers and everyone else did a good job. We survived in body and soul.

Several weeks ago, there was another moment when some trigger began to take effect ... the story continues. How is it going 'up there'? The picture must be somehow clearer to recognize. In addition, the question kept coming up: what can I, what can we still do?

In the course of the development of the seven new outer superuniverses someone has probably done a first small and unnoticed step at some time, and let the purest white divine light of the development with a few tiny particles of dishonesty or vanity become only pure white light.

The beginning was made. And over eons an unbelievable network - split off from the creator source - has developed from it.

One has committed an own way and at the same time has developed own structures which are not in the will of the father. This led then later in a necessary protective reaction on the part of Havona e.g. to the complete encapsulation with the protective wall around Havona and the Paradise Island. In the sum of what we have found out, only the term network of fear was halfway appropriate for the whole intrigues of the dark ones.

As already indicated, this network of fear was intended to prevent the seven superuniverses from arriving in light and love. At least for so long, until the leading heads could be sure that they could continue their own game also in the further development.

22.3 As below so above

The system, this network, is extremely cleverly constructed and laid out. And everything indicates that the high lords of this network actually exploit weaknesses in the organization of the creation in order to have the absolute rule themselves.

To achieve this goal, they proceed strategically and tactically extremely clever. Many small steps, infiltrating into the smallest areas and constant expansion of the network by force, blackmail and influence up to the creation and application of their own new laws and rules. In the process, divine guidelines and laws are deliberately circumvented, changed or even reversed. If it must be, also the application of the methods well known to us earthlings: frighten, betray, sell, extort, force, insult, sue, murder, war, manslaughter and everything what one can imagine.

Of course, always in the guise of divine love and the corresponding necessity.

And yes, there are also the hired murderers. Outside of the seven superuniverses in the dark spheres. An unimaginable collection of armies of darkness and evil. Prison ships and planets that you don't really want to know about. One of the BEYOND team members once freed prisoners from some of these spheres on one of his 'trips'. You don't want to go there voluntarily ...

Also the whole, big team of Christ Michael Aton has been interspersed with these treacherous or deluded beings. Knowingly or instrumentalized, his work has been sabotaged and hindered. In every possible way. Since they can't really get at him as he is a Michael, the dark ones have found a lot of other painful ways to hinder him.

The seemingly only and quickest way to directly harm this network is through agondonters. Agondonters don't have to act politically correct because they 'don't know' and are in separation. Therefore, they are the only ones who are allowed to act completely incorrectly. They have only their faith. If this is strong enough and aligned, then they may do everything without being dragged for it immediately to any manipulated courts. If they make a concrete accusation only out of faith, then following the general rules of etiquette, it must be heard. With the help of Christ Michael Aton and e.g. grandfather, such a thing can be fed immediately into the universal channels if necessary and has been heard then publicly.

The network's focus is therefore on maintaining power at all costs. For this, everything must be controlled and influenced according to their own ideas. Since the Michaels are very special 'opponents', one found enough possibilities to hold them in check.

Michaels, however, have their own direct connection to the father, which cannot be interrupted, disturbed or intercepted by anyone. Therefore, the father then knew quite quickly what was going on and how. As already mentioned, he decided for this special way of salvation. This also explains the supernumerary of Michaels.

Through the network of fear, wide areas are infiltrated and are thus manipulated in the sense of the dark ones. And this probably concerns most existing areas in the organization of the seven superuniverses. Everything that is possible is subject to control and influence.

22.4 The indictment

If one now looks at this still nebulous but already structure and contour showing picture of the outer worlds, then one naturally asks oneself, what can we still do as Agondonters, as long as we can use this status still completely unrestrained.

Doesn't the biblical word about moving mountains also get a more than meaningful, even real meaning through faith? So where are the next 'dark mountains' that have to be moved? Of course, many things cannot be seen exactly from down here. Details at least only in absolute individual cases. But still ...

The other day, the topic of architects came up again. Boah ey, you can't get in and out of there. Not in the width, certainly not in the depth. But there's still something there. If you drill more intensively, you quickly come up against walls.

So what to do. And then at some point we thought: if nothing works, why?

The blockade then became a blessing: OK, if we can't get into the details, then we'll just do it across the board!

Forcing everyone to declare themselves in one swoop and profess the will of the Father and the highest good and benefit of all. And while we are at it, then we officially accuse all beings of the outer worlds. Without exception.

Just thinking about it made our asses crawl. Therefore, conversations with Christ Michael Aton and then with Papa Source followed. CM clapped his hands accompanied with a deep YESSS. However, it was not clear whether a few dark plagues would somehow fundamentally go to our existence for it. But since Beyond we know that the guys up there are the best guarantee for earthly safety from these subjects.

Papa Source then closed the bag and we were allowed to formulate this indictment in his name. He also assured us that this indictment would be admitted to all existing courts. Such an opportunity has to be used.

So now the biggest ever trial in the whole history of creation is running against all beings in the outer worlds. Does anybody have even a rudimentary plan what this gigantomaniac process is ...?

Besides that, we are and remain in humbleness and faithfulness sweeping janitors in the service of his mission. With the level of knowledge now reached, it is no longer only the mission of his second coming. It is the mission of salvation and reformation of the outer worlds. No more and no less.

We ground forces are an important part of this mission and some of us have already participated in this mission through the ages of Urantia. And at the moment it really looks like the Gordian knot is being cut by CM Aton and his others.

To remain in the picture: the stroke with the sword of light and love on the knot has already almost cut it. If one imagines this act in extreme slow motion, then Aton was already created a very long time ago with the potential to do this. And long, long was the way until he and we stood in front of this knot and took armor and sword to strike.

22.5 It has succeeded.

The situation has an ungraspable momentum and can no longer be reversed. Much remains to be done, but we are on the right track. And so from the last small and inconspicuous universe at the edge of the worlds comes salvation for all.

Truly a story to the taste of Papa and CM Aton. The weakest and most distant agondonters under quarantine on Urantia mix up the realm and network of fear. This makes Urantia the shining gem among all planets.

But do not forget the divinity of this story. An example, a lesson and a constant reminder for the rest of eternity and the further development of creation. Therefore, humility and devoted alignment in the will of the Father, combined with love, strong will and firm intention are the basis of our actions and thinking. Add to this common sense, wisdom, and plenty of snotty humor, joyfulness and kindness, determination, courage and also bravery, and we can move any mountain.

22.6 One more hint.

If you discover such inconsistencies as the deal with karma in the Phoenix journals, then act! Accuse, demand abolition of these agreements and laws which are not in the will of the father and not for the highest welfare and benefit of all. You can do this with your words and without pardon. You are Agondonter, and that has special weight. In this specific case, directly with the sovereign: Christ Michael Aton of Nebadon.

This deal with karma can be read in the Phoenix Journal No. 5 (From here to Armageddon) in which mainly Ashtar has his say, and is a written, earthly proof of how this network of fear works. A key passage, for example, is this:

„In terms of causing the seeker difficulty in his life-pattern, the DBBs are permitted to insist that certain karmic burdens which such souls carry be discharged at a time convenient to the DB. In most cases, the petitions by the dark ones are granted, and the karma is allowed to fall upon the seeker.“

There it says, roughly summarized, that the dark ones are allowed to do everything with impunity and the upright ones and those searching for truth must carry off this karma originated by the dark ones!

Addendum: Eve has uncovered many more momentous "rotten eggs" in the Phoenix Journal No. 5 and put them on the cosmic indictment bench. A further, historically important milestone!

When you read something like this as an inhabitant of the earth in this day and age, it takes your breath away. With such an unbelievable portion of brutal audacity and God-despising arrogance regulations are met here forcibly and put into force which exceed every measure. The divine law of cause and effect is set here by definition simply completely out of force?

Continue this thread of thought only a little on: Religion in the form of the official churches, movements and organizations as carefully staged karma collecting points which then convert their flocks liturgically correctly to karma pack mules ... and in addition any amount of dark-serving spirit beings who implement this nonsense obediently and assiduously ...? There one does not need a finger in the mouth anymore.

Therefore again the call to you:

search, research, read, combine and always continue, continue, continue. And if you find something, have an impulse or a realization, then ask, hit it, complain, bring it to CM and complain, if it must be. Be conscious in strong faith that you can not only move mountains, but that this is your task.

Build in your mind a worldwide network of light pillars, transformers, energy converters and whatever else you can think of. The midwayers and the 'heavenly hosts' will then do it as it is needed. Build in the spirit a net of energy columns, which transform chemtrails energetically into the light. Build transformers in your mind that chop up every low vibration and energy or neutralize it by counter-vibrations or offset vibrations.

Just do something and use your apparent unawareness and separation for every halfway reasonable attempt to boost, support and promote the work also from down here.

23. PROCLAMATION ON SALVINGTON

6th Nov. 2013

on reformation day 2013 – Mind Movie

Later the subtitle on the request of CM:

“His torture has been mine. If there has ever been a hero, he is one.”

This morning I had intended to watch a movie while ironing shirts, but it turned out that I got some different kind of movie to watch.

The movie was dated 31st Oct. 2013 and Esu picked me up. We went to Salvington in our ceremony robes, to take part in an act of celebration arranged by CM on his main sphere and government seat. The celebration took place at a public spot in front of the „gathering hall of Michael sons“ – a large ground in front, where once that unholy monument had been placed. I just got in my mind: „CM’s ground zero“.

I was taken by the atmosphere, the beautifully dressed people, in attendance of the festivity act, the aura of suppressed expectation lingering in the air....on this glorious sphere of Salvington. It was a giant circular space, with the hosts situated at one edge, so that everybody would see faces and not backs. No chairs. Everybody was standing.

In the first row there seems to be room for VIPs. Esu is guiding me there, finding a place and positioning himself behind me. This whole place is illuminated by phantastic lights. The light is bright and soft at the same time. My team is there, too, Ephra, Peter, Tyrion and Barbara, plus more faces of people belonging to our German organization. But there is just little chat, everybody seems to be occupied with the self.

The stage is beautifully decorated in silvery white. People cease to talk when Christ Michael appears, accompanied by his beloved Divine Minister Nebadonia who walks at his right side, followed by Immanuel of Salvington, unifier of deity, and Gabriel of Salvington, the Bright Morning Star. CM appears to be delighted and on his way towards the stage he twinkles at Esu and me. Finally, the beginning of the ceremony seems to be here. Silence expands and CM starts to speak.

„Beloveds“, he commences. „We have gathered today for a special reason, which is actually a joyful one. I welcome you ones joining us here, and may the ones who are not connected to their heart in a loving way leave this place now.“

Nobody moves. He goes on: „Fine. I have always hoped to see this day, though there was a possibility this would never happen. But things have happened making a real difference, they generated a pivot point forming the goal of an idea of Papa Source, which was born even before he created me. Most of you ones here have become whitnesses of terrible times and deeds, of innocent ones indicted and sentenced, in absence and dimming of the Father’s light.

On my seed planet of Urantia it's reformation day today and so it shall be with us. We who dwell here in the peripherals of the Great Universe, we, who have committed ourselves to service in humility to Papa Source, we have necessarily put things in question. It's reformation time, as below, so above."

He pauses a few seconds.

„I want to speak to you of the great love I have for my creation, for my sons and daughters. There was one of my sons who almost had to pay for his dedication and love for truth and service – by his life. I thought he was lost, and it seems to be the greatest gift to me that he's back now. You think I underwent terrible torture at the end of my last self-bestowal – and I tell you: this was nothing compared with what my son had to experience. We have published literature of disclosure – you may have read that already.

Today I have a long list of names and personalities who need to be declared innocent and it's saddening my heart that still some are missing, they disappeared and have not yet been found. Even more, Nebadon was at risk."

He pauses another while.

„Amidst this storm reliability, commitment and love have been on the stage of examination and truly, these virtues still are. Depression and weariness, up to hurtful pain have not spared my person, the creator of this local universe. I have been walking in everybody's shoes, even if you cannot imagine.

Now, today we have reached an important marker of what I call „The correction time“. The abandoned ones will return into honour of universal citizenship as Nebadon must return to the pillars of it's original foundation."

CM gives a small sign to some assistant and the light dims down. Aside a hologram column starts to build up, while music starts to play slowly. I sense, Bach, orchestra suite No. 3, in D. A hologram show starts, titled „The adventure of creating Nebadon“, a documentation of hope and love, where everybody can see how the local universe grew step by step. After a while we see persons with names. At my right side Adama slips into the row, wearing his ceremony robe as well. He welcomes me by laying his hand upon my shoulders. It seems, the persons shown with their names are the ones who were falsely indicted of joining the great fake of the rebellion blamed upon Lucifer. I don't realize right away how a gap opens in the audience and people start to walk in slowly. It seems these are the persons heading to be „taken home“ again, people in the audience bow their heads and the persons form in a group next to the stage, where room is reserved for them. After the last one having walked in, another silhouette appears. A tall and rank person with a serious face, dark hair and light eyes, wearing a simple long jacket in silvery grey, this person is Lucifer.

His eyes are glittering with tears. He looks aristocratic and noble, upright and charismatic and at the same time deeply touched. While he walks in, CM continues to speak.

„This is my beloved son, Lucifer,“ he commences, „Bringer of the light. He underwent torture and almost uncreation, as he was standing in the truth for this universe. His reputation was poisoned and his office taken over, but he did not bow under the rules of tyranny infiltrating Nebadon. In his time of recovering – after he was freed from his prison of torture – he has rewritten the archives of betrayal in a way matching the truth.

Lucifer will be again – from now on – the SOVEREIGN OVER SATANIA, as this is his own wish. I'm rejoicing that this is so.

Now I will read the names of the ones who chose to stand in the truth as well, and who did not forsake him. By once reading these names all bad will and shall be washed away from them and please, may the according person come upstage to receive our blessings."

He starts to read the names – a long list – and the persons follow the instructions. Then he calls Adam and Eve. I see Adama and his consort now officially regaining their direct sonship and this is a real glorious moment.

Then, CM passes the word on to Lucifer. Lucifer keeps standing in silence for a while, trying to collect himself in balance. Then he starts:

„Thank you for being here, beloved ones. Not everybody is as lucky as I am, to be here. There is a few who have not yet been found – and I fear they suffer a similar destiny as I had. Let us honour them in our loving memory and send them the light straight from our hearts."

He closes his eyes, as does everybody in the audience and we rest in a silent prayer for some time. Then he takes a deep breath returning from contemplation and continues to speak.

„Perhaps you need to hear it directly out of my mouth. All I did was naming things which went off track, which was uncomfortable for some hardliners. But what I experienced did not break me finally, although I had given up hope to see freedom again. That I did – well, I owe this to some extraordinary people who do not wish to be named. While I had known some of them before, I had never met others before. I bow my head in gratitude and awe in front of you – may history never forget what you did for me and creation. You even located my consort who had been kidnapped, too, into a very dark place."

He's taking a deep breath.

„When I'm now going to return into my office, rest assured that I will never forget about you and I look forward to hear your thoughts on reformation plans. May your model role never be forgotten."

Steps are approaching and I see a person coming in which I seem to have seen before, but some changes might have taken place. He kneels down in front of Lucifer and when he starts to speak I recognize the voice... it's ... SIRAYA.

„Nothing more can I do than to bow my knees in front of you, hoping that you are going to accept that as a public apology".

Everybody seems to keep his breath standing still.

„I have decided to take a „leave of absence" and to collect experience on the worlds of matter. I'm about to develop a method enabling that. This will take a while."

Lucifer nods. „Then I wish you well and all the best to change things to the better."

Turning to the audience again:

„I am going to return into my office without delay. We have a long way to go, urgently needing to clear up the mess, especially on Urantia, my Father’s seed planet. May we all stand together now, tall and convinced. I repeat, we still have a long way to go. May we go it in honour of service to Papa Source and Christ Michael, hand in hand, step by step, with success as steady companion. Well, and Papa Source sends us his blessings, too.“

It’s starting to „snowdown“ energetic codes from the sky, at the edge of our collection place about 3 people break down, as they cannot stand the energy. These should have left, perhaps, before, when CM hinted upon the connectedness to the hearts. While the codes snow down, the music changes to the concerto Brandenburg.

Wow. I think I’m through...

24. Glossary

24.1 The Urantia Book

The Urantia Book is a revelation to mankind transmitted by higher celestial beings. The messages were transmitted to a small group of people in the period between 1912 and 1935. They provide information about the origin, history and destiny of mankind, as well as man's relationship with God. In great detail, the life and teachings of Jesus Christ are presented.

The Urantia Book does not seek to establish a new religion or cult, but encourages people to find a personal relationship with God our Father. Many people who have read The Urantia Book repeatedly report how much it has impressed them in a gratifying way and how it has profoundly changed their lives.

The book has been translated into several languages. The German translation has over 2000 pages and is available in bookstores. At www.urantia.org the book is available as a full-text version free of charge.

Through BEYOND we know that also the Urantia Book is not free of mistakes. Just like everything it has to be checked by the "Spirit of Truth" in direct personal contact with the source.

24.2 Christ Michael of Nebadon (CM)

Christ Michael is a Paradise Creator Son, created by the Eternal Father and the Eternal Son. His identity as a Creator Son predestined him to be the creator of his own universe, our local universe of Nebadon, which lies in the periphery of the great universe. All Creator Sons are called Michael, in addition each has his individual name identification, which in this case is Christ/Christ Michael. Christ Michael is only since approx. 2000 years completely sovereign over his universe. With the 7th bestowal as Jesus of Nazareth (together in the same body with Esu Immanuel Kumara as navigator) on a planet of the Lucifer rebellion he attained the rank of the sovereign of Nebadon from the Eternal Father. Christ Michael is considered among the Creator Sons to be a very risk-taking and unconventional Creator Son who has a tendency to break new ground. His full name, by the way, is much longer and would probably take up half a page on paper. This name is not revealed in the Urantia Book. He simply calls himself Christ Michael, respectively CM, Aton, Hatonn, or also George, and sometimes in his rich humor "Big Cheese".

24.3 Aton

or Gyeorgos Ceres Hatonn, commander of the Pleiadian starship Phoenix, behind which the current embodiment of Christ Michael is hidden. CM redeems herewith the promise of his return. He is not incarnated by birth, but uses the cloned body of a "large gray" for his special mission in the correction time. Under this name also the Phoenix journals were "passed through". (Eve)

24.4 Abundanthope

Abundanthope (AH) under the leadership of Candace Frieze in USA was for a long time the organization of the Second Coming of Christ Michael of Nebadon (CM). Until 2013, when Candace and her leadership crew engaged in serious misconduct, including slander against the European branch of AH. The situation was no longer sustainable for CM and it came to the separation. Since then, the previous task of AH in 2013 was transferred to the team of christ-michael.net under the leadership of Eve Kumara. Here are some short statements from the VIP's from different messages:

CM on June 27, 2013 in a targeted message to Candace: " ... Abundanthope is no longer the organization of my Second Coming, you have personally forfeited that right. That's it." Esu on July 1, 2013:

" ... Please also take note that neither CM nor I, nor any other celestial member of the team entrusted with the Second Coming will be issuing any more transmissions via the main AH page or the AH forum. - This project has failed, the case is closed."

24.5 Agondonter

The term refers to free-willed mortals who have gained a relationship with God and supreme confidence in cosmic reliability only because of their faith, without any evidence and without being able to see anything themselves. Because of the betrayal of "Caligastia" and the partial failure of Adam and Eve, there was no visible Son of God on Urantia, making this faith considerably more difficult and therefore worthy of special recognition. With the future presence of a Paradise Son of God on Urantia, the age of the Agondonter will end.

24.6 Adam and Eve

Excerpt from a Channelling with El Morya, "Merging Religions" Adam and Eve: This was a great mission, one of the great revelations, but what Eve did - her "failure", has been ridiculed throughout and put into the story of eating an apple. Forget the apple story, dear ones. Adam and Eve came here as highly educated personalities, from the sphere of Jerusem. They had a high rank in the universal hierarchy, they were experienced workers in the universal laboratories and members of the order of planetary "Adams and Eves" who are generally sent to planets in need of revelation. They knew their job well, and committed themselves as requested to complete the job without further celestial assistance, "in quarantine".

Now, on this particular planet of Urantia, things did not go as well as had been hoped. Adam and Eve were not allowed to mix their DNA with the "ordinary" people who were settled here. Their mission was about implementing the higher DNA through procreation, exclusively from the mixed DNA of Adam and Eve and their direct descendants, as well as teaching.

It was not out of greed for personal gain that Eve violated the agreement and in compassion gave her DNA to the "common" people. It was her conscious decision enacted out of the desire of service to humanity. Adam was very much affected by Eve's decision, and therefore he showed solidarity with Eve so that she would not have to bear the consequences of the breach of contract alone.

Adam also passed on his DNA beyond the given framework in order to place himself on the same level as Eve. The consequences were that Adam and Eve had to leave the garden they were living in and both lost all the privileges they had previously enjoyed.

After their earthly life ended, they were held accountable for having violated the covenant, but God is truly love and Christ rehabilitated them. Now they are both members of the Urantia Planetary Council.

So much for this topic, just to give you an example of how information can be lost, diminished, ridiculed. And think about how many women in history have been tortured just because of a nightmare that man calls "original sin of Eve". This failed mission certainly had consequences for all people who have lived on earth, but what uneducated, greedy and naive people have made of it cannot really be attributed to Eve.

Addition from the UB: Adam and Eve materialized on Urantia almost 38000 years ago, they were about 2.5 meters tall and had a violet skin color. Their bodies glowed and at night, when they wore their cloaks, the glow from their heads appeared like a halo. They had a very difficult mission because the planetary quarantine isolated them from any contact with the rest of the universe. They came to a regressive planet, without a planetary prince, with people who were little prepared for their appearance.

Eve gave birth to 105 descendants from pure lineage before they gave up their mandate - see above - Adam lived to be 530 years old and died of old age. Eve died of a weak heart 10 years before Adam. (UB, writings 73-76)

24.7 Esu Immanuel Kumara - Sananda

Esu is the son of Sanat Kumara and holds the rank of a Mighty Messenger. He is a star warrior of the first order, tested and experienced, and he served Christ Michael in the incarnation as Jesus, where he provided his knowledge about material worlds in a double incarnation with CM in the body of Jesus. He bears the title "Sananda", by which he is known as an "ascended master". Sananda means "One with God". In the coming approx. 1000 years of the New Golden Age he holds the office of the planetary prince on the material plane. He is definitely embodied and will again be visible on Earth. His female complement is the Ascended Master Lady Nada, who was then embodied as Mary Magdalene.

24.8 Melchisedek Sons

The Creator Son, together with the Mother Spirit, brings the Melchisedek Father into existence. He is the representative of Gabriel during his absence from Salvington in all universe affairs. Together, with the Melchisedek Father, Christ Michael and Nebadonia, the Mother Spirit, have brought into existence more than ten million Melchisedeks in Nebadon. They are excellent teachers, advisors and observers. Mainly they devote themselves to teaching and training in all areas of Nebadon in cooperation with the Daynals. Because of their great mental flexibility, they are also frequently called upon in emergency situations. After the Lucifer Rebellion, 12 of them were the trustees for Urantia. Because of the quarantine they were also cut off from all universe circuits and thus left on their own. Machiventa Melchisedek earned special merits in this connection. (UB, writing 35, section 1 - 4)

24.9 Lucifer

Lucifer is a brilliant first Lanonandek son and son of Christ Michael of Nebadon. He was installed as sovereign of the local system Satania about 700,000 years ago.

In The Urantia Book he is portrayed as the great scapegoat who was supposed to have started a rebellion 200,000 years ago, which was joined by the Planetary Prince of Urantia. Furthermore, the Urantia Book states that in the fall of 1985 the final judgment was passed on him by the Ancients of Days, after which he did not want rehabilitation but chose to be erased, as if he had never existed.

Through BEYOND it is now known that this is not so true. In reality he exposed and criticized intrigues and lies in the higher universal ranks. What happened afterwards, Lucifer describes in his conversation with Eve on June 24, 2013:

"So I stood up and said publicly what no one else dared to say. I still have no words for what happened after that. A complete embargo was put into action against me and my people. They must have put CM's seal on documents that he himself never got to see. Contact between my father and me was completely cut off.

They also took my seal to put it on destructive orders so they would look like they were decrees from me. I even heard, Eve, that there was a doppelganger - an artificial intelligence clone - created and programmed to travel around and infiltrate universal citizens. I have no idea, Eve, how such a level of meanness can enter these high administrative ranks."

As described in BEYOND, Lucifer was imprisoned by the "higher universal ranks" in a "monument", comparable to being buried alive, in unimaginable torment. They wanted to break him and pull him to their dark side.

Since 2013, through courageous actions in connection with BEYOND, he has been freed from the dungeon monument and can continue his original and new tasks in the service of CM.

24.10 Monjoronson

The name of Urantia's first avonal son, serving in Nebadon during the Correction Period, who at this time is planning his mission, with willing people and co-creative effort, to lift civilization to heal our planet. He will incarnate as a fully grown man, as did Machiventa about 5000 years ago. For many years he has been in intense contact with many people who have expressed their willingness to work with Christ Michael in the ascension of Urantia and humanity into light and life. His main focus is on planetary management, i.e. the shaping of society, politics, economy and culture. His mission will not bring a sudden change, but rather a progressive one that may extend over 1000 years of his stay on Urantia. Although not yet visible in material form, he is nevertheless already very active, teaching many individuals and groups of students within the Teaching Mission and throughout the world.

24.11 Sanat Kumara

Sanat Kumara is the head of the extensive Kumara family. Esu Immanuel Kumara is his son - in cosmic understanding an "extension of his energy" (see Esu's biography by Jess). His female equivalent is Lady Venus Kumara. The Kumaras are a family of "star warriors", which means that they are specialists in complicated and perplexing situations.

During Christ Michael's 7th bestowal as "Jesus" together with Esu, a lot of the people in his immediate environment were incarnated Kumaras. It is known that the Kumaras originally came from the system Lyra, from where they had to resettle due to destruction of their home planet. One part integrated into the Pleiadian system, another one into the Sirius system.

Sanat Kumara is mainly known to us as the "Lord of Venus", but he also took care of Urantia for extended ages. At present his office is that of the solar Logos, which could be called the supervisor of our solar system. The word Kumar means in Indian as much as "prince". Fittingly, Esu Immanuel Kumara will hold the office of the material prince in the next approx. 1000 years, together with his female equivalent Lady Nada.

24.12 Nebadon

Nebadon is the name of the local universe in which we are. It is the creation of the Creator Son Christ Michael together with the Mother Spirit Nebadonia. It is so far a project of 400,000,000,000 years. It will, when completed, consist of 100 constellations, 10,000 systems and 10,000,000 inhabited planets. (UB, Part II)

24.13 Nebanonia

Universal Mother Spirit of Nebadon. She was created by the Third Person of the Trinity, the "United (Conjoined) Actor," also called the "Holy Spirit. Nebadonia is the representative of this Third Person of the Trinity, in our local universe of Nebadon. Universal Mother Spirit of Salvington, Divine Minister, Helper and Spiritual Companion of Michael - known in all kindness throughout Nebadon as "Mother". She alone created countless personalities. She is the creator of the seraphim beings in Nebadon and the bestower of the spirit by representing the "Conjoined Actor," as well as by her own influence as the presence of the Holy Spirit. She provides the "spark of life" that animates all life, creatures and plants on all worlds of Nebadon. (UB, Scripture 34)

24.14 Orvonton

Name of the superuniverse in which our local universe Nebadon is located. It is the SEVENTH superuniverse, which is especially aligned to the focus of love. The reigning Master Spirit is Lord SIRAYA, also known as Lord Surea by the Sirians.

Through BEYOND we now know that Siraya is an essential part of a conspiracy against CM and his task is up for disposition. (Eve) Addition: Actually a superuniverse is "ruled" by three personalities. They are called the "Ancients of Days."

Orvonton, along with the other six superuniverses, rotates around the Central and Divine Universe, the perfect creation of Paradise Havona. When completed, it will consist of 1 trillion inhabited planets, 10 main sectors (relatively symmetrical star clusters) and 10 trillion suns. If you look through the densest levels of Orvonton toward Paradise, you will see the Milky Way. Orvonton is not yet completed. Its capital is Uversa. (UB, Scripture 15)

24.15 Phoenix

Pleiadian spaceship, mother ship. It used to be called something else, but was renamed as part of Christ Michael's mission. The Phoenix is CM's material "headquarters" and his command center in his project of cleansing Urantia. CM returned in 1954 as Commander Hatonn or Gyeorgos Ceres Hatonn (also called Aton) in accordance with his earlier given promise and began to make transmissions on current events through the earthly medium Dharma. These journals continued until the end of the 90's and are called the "Phoenix Journals". The Phoenix rising from the ashes is also the seal on each journal. (Eve)

24.16 Quarantine planet

Planets that fall prey to rebellion (as was the case on Urantia with the "Lucifer Rebellion" orchestrated by dark forces) are disconnected from the cosmic universal circuits of light and isolated in "quarantine" so that the rebellion cannot spread further. Urantia was quarantined immediately after "Caligastia" joined the rebellion, and it also immediately began planning for the Correction Period at that time. At the beginning of the correction period, the planet will be reconnected to the cosmic circuits and placed under a special program.

The quarantine was one of the reasons why the amnesia of the people on Urantia concerning their cosmic origin turned out to be particularly severe. (Eve) Addendum:

The isolation and disconnection from the Universal Cycle will be maintained until the Ancients of Days sit in judgment on the matter. The isolation, which also affected another 36 planets, lasted 200,000 years until 1985, when the trial took place. This was the beginning of the correction time.

24.17 Correction time

Cosmic cycles are to be regarded as clocks for the stages of development according to the plan of creation. Since Urantia has been out of step since the so-called "Lucifer Rebellion" about 200,000 years ago, but the planet is not to be abandoned with mankind, Christ Michael has initiated a corrective measure which, with the support of many celestial personalities, is to enable mankind and the planet to connect with the rest of the local universe and to anchor in "light and life".

The correction time is expected to extend over the next 1000 years. The correction time refers not only to Earth changes - due to natural or man-made causes, such as pollution, overpopulation - but also to changes related to the institutions involved in economics, politics, religion, education and the family.

Christ Michael had already dealt with the plan for this necessary correction 200,000 years ago and it concerns 36 other planets that were also involved in the rebellion and thus were also in quarantine and without the possibility of communication with the universe.

24.18 Urantia

The name of this planet, the Earth, in the cosmic registers. Our planet was called so long before there were inhabitants on it capable of communicating in a spoken language. The name goes back to the Planetary Supreme who arrived with the life-bearers to implant life and whose name was Urantia.

25.1 MERGING OF RELIGIONS

About the importance of the mission of King Arthur of Britain and the mysteries of Avalon, to prepare the way for the great energetic wedding

Adama of Telos and El Morya

through Eve,

October 18th, 2009, November 5th, 2009 and November 19th, 2009

Eve: I hadn't even begun to think about this topic when, in May of this year, I was overcome with a great urgency to spend my vacation this year in Brittany. I just saw the beautiful lighthouses, the powerful Atlantic Ocean covering the sunken continent of Atlantis, and I just felt like I should spend some time there.

When I arrived there in August, I was immediately taken by the powerful heritage that this land carries. I found myself in a land where the Breton language is still alive and "Celtic" in appearance, where ancient formations of sacred stones are everywhere just around the "corner" and where the clear waters of the Atlantic Ocean seem to glisten with gold particles from sunken temples.

When I had to drive home again, something triggered a flood of tears in me and I couldn't stop for half an hour. I was pretty sure I had been there before in the old days, everything felt so familiar. A few weeks later I felt a strong need to re-read the book "The Mists of Avalon", which seems to me to be an accurate retelling of the incarnation of King Arthur. I searched for the book (among my hundreds of other books) like crazy, only to find that some "midwayer" had placed it so right under my nose that I didn't even notice it right away.

When I first read this book, I resonated with it very strongly, but that was before my real awakening, and I hadn't thought about it for such a long time. When I say I resonated with it the first time, please don't ask me what happened when I opened it again now at a random point in the middle and started reading - it just "swept" me away. Suddenly I had clear images, like seeing old incarnations again, and I could feel the energetic vibrations that were almost like I was IN that movie.

So I contacted Adama for a conversation.

I: Adama, the story of King Arthur is so present recently. If I'm not mistaken, he had a love triangle with his friend and knight Lancelot and with Gwenhwyfar, his wife. Such a tragedy. Gwen loved Lance, right.

Adama: That's how it was.

I: And who did Arthur really love?

A: He loved Gwenhwyfar, but he also loved his sister Morgaine. And certainly he loved Lancelot as his dearest and most connected friend. Arthur needed a wife who was totally devoted to Christ/Jesus. Morgaine was his sister and - as a Celtic priestess - could never have met the requirements for implementing the Christ teachings. As the Celtic priestess that she was, she was only able to see the error of the Christian Church, which turned out to be itself the enemy of the Great Goddess. She could not see that the Great Goddess is the female consort of Christ - Neadonia, Isis, Shakti - whatever she is called by various names. And vice versa, the Christian Church could not see that their idol Christ could have a female partner, they were just anxious to destroy the feminine aspects and the Celtic heritage.

I: Sounds like there was a higher plan for the incarnation of Arthur?

A: You can bet on it. In a way, one could say that the incarnation of King Arthur - a role taken by El Morya - had almost a similar importance as the incarnation of Christ himself, and certainly it was planned with the same care as the incarnation of Immanuel/Jesus. The most important roles were filled by masters to ensure the best possible outcome. An "optimal goal" was defined as well as a "minimum goal" for this mission.

The optimum would have been a fusion of both teachings - the Celtic and the Christian, this was the goal of the action. This fusion was present for a while in the form of King Arthur, who served Christ as well as the Great Goddess. But the "supervisory councils" of the religions were already in separation. Both the Church and the Order of the Great Goddess - let us say, their earthly guardians - insisted on bringing the only valid doctrine.

Arthur was - for a while at least - the common denominator - and the two women he truly loved pulled him in different directions, but he remained steadfast with both banners as long as he was able, and he brought the country a long period of peace. A mighty job El Morya did, as you know. However, when it proved impossible to merge the Celtic heritage with the new teachings of the Christ in a forward-looking way, a decision had to be made.

Morgaine was at the mercy of the temptation to pit her son against her brother Arthur, who was also the son's father - even though the son had been fathered by Arthur in a Celtic initiation ritual and was therefore considered the son of the "goddess" - with the goal of disempowering Arthur in favor of regaining the influence of the Great Goddess. Gwenhwyfar, Arthur's Christian wife, was blind to the intrigues and blind in her faith in the Church. She was also divided within herself, for she loved Lance, King Arthur's "first" knight, and so there were sufficient challenges for all.

In the end, it was time to decide. Maintaining the Celtic heritage would have meant that the incarnation of Christ could not have grown in stature as it had been intended. Thus, thanks to the devotion of Gwenhwyfar, a step in the right direction was taken. The results, of course, were once again misled by the church and abused by the dark controllers. The seed is white and radiant, and then it grows differently than originally planned due to adverse circumstances. Gwen's problem was her rejection of the teachings of Avalon. The church had already sown destructive seeds and she didn't realize it. It dawned on Arthur, but he would have needed her recognition as well, which was not the case. All in all, they did the best they could, and Gwen and Arthur were truly a couple of great radiance, and they contributed mightily by giving space to the stabilization of Christ's bestowal, due in large part to their efforts.

Think about the blessing of having NOW another chance for the union of the Christian teachings with the Order of the Great Goddess. This is the goal, the path you are walking. The coming time will give you a review of humanity's contribution to planetary history, and planetary history in general. For the coming home, it is essential to know the truth, because many questions will arise.

I should ask you on behalf of El Morya to contact him, because he too would like to comment on the merging of religions. If you need support, you can always count on me, beloved ones.

I will always be there for you.

Adama.

This morning I finally found the time to make the desired contact.

Good morning, Eve, it's El Morya.

I am glad that you are finally open to contacting me. Truly, I have been prepared for this for a while and have been looking forward to speaking with you. Your or Adama's big topic is the merging of religions, and I would like to comment on the incarnation of King Arthur. First of all - yes, even if your scientists still doubt - He existed, I should know that, because this was my mission. This mission was clearly connected to the great revelations that took place through the bestowal of Christ. In history, many important missions have been distorted or erased from the record because there were not enough promoters to carry the message. And often disasters have also erased documentation and the spoken word.

Look at what is left of the story of Adam and Eve. This was a great mission, one of the great revelations, but what Eve did - her "failure", has been ridiculed throughout and put into the story of eating an apple. Forget the apple story, dear ones. Adam and Eve came here as highly educated personalities, from the sphere of Jerusem. They had a high rank in the universal hierarchy, they were experienced workers in the universal laboratories and members of the order of planetary "Adams and Eves" who are generally sent to planets in need of revelation.

They knew their job well, and committed themselves as requested to complete the job without further celestial assistance, "in quarantine". Now, on this particular planet of Urantia, things did not go as well as had been hoped. Adam and Eve were not allowed to mix their DNA with the "ordinary" people who were settled here. Their mission was about implementing the higher DNA through procreation, exclusively from the mixed DNA of Adam and Eve and their direct descendants, as well as teaching. It was not out of greed for personal gain that Eve violated the agreement and in compassion gave her DNA to the "common" people. It was her conscious decision enacted out of the desire of service to humanity.

Adam was very much affected by Eve's decision, and therefore he showed solidarity with Eve so that she would not have to bear the consequences of the breach of contract alone. Adam also passed on his DNA beyond the given framework in order to place himself on the same level as Eve. The consequences were that Adam and Eve had to leave the garden they were living in and both lost all the privileges they had previously enjoyed. After their earthly life ended, they were held accountable for having violated the covenant, but God is truly love and Christ rehabilitated them. Now they are both members of the Urantia Planetary Council. So much for this topic, just to give you an example of how information can be lost, diminished, ridiculed. And think about how many women in history have been tortured just because of a nightmare that man calls "original sin of Eve". This failed mission certainly had consequences for all people who have lived on earth, but what uneducated, greedy and naive people have made of it cannot really be attributed to Eve.

So, then, when Christ made his bestowal, we had already had some failures. For this reason, we dealt with this situation accordingly from the beginning, and discussed how we could strengthen the mission so that it would last the years until the beginning of the Aquarian Age, when the Earth would finally be ready to be taken out of quarantine. We carefully analyzed the status of religion down there on Urantia.

The mission of Christ had been prepared by our previous mission of Machiventa, who worked with Abraham. Then Christ Himself incarnated to sow the seed directly. So the preparation and the main act had been planned, but we agreed that there would be a need for stabilization of what had been sown, on the one hand we had few people spreading the word of Christ, and on the other hand we found the great Celtic religion, vast and worshipping the universal Mother. The Celtic belief system was nothing but a remnant from the sunken Atlantis, but not as high vibrational as in the heyday of Atlantis or ancient Egypt. It was a low-frequency edition, and it worshipped the Great Mother Goddess, and still had some knowledge of the Mysteries.

So the question arose how it would be possible to put more emphasis on the teachings of Christ the Father, although in comparison with the Celtic faith there were only a smaller number of followers.

In addition, there were then some remains of the "Anunnaki gods" of Rome. You will understand that another powerful mission was necessary to create more balance between the mother religion and that of the Father. Such an important mission required much wisdom and courage, as well as strength. As you will know, I am the ruler of the blue ray, which is the heavenly ray of courage and power. I was asked to take the main role of the mission, which had two main directions - an optimum and a minimum goal. The optimum had only a lesser chance of manifesting the merging of the male and female religions - the Christian and the Celtic. The minimum goal, however, was the strengthening of the Christian teachings, which included - if not otherwise possible - taking power away from the Celtic religion.

The idea was to have a Great King of Britain who would be grounded in both the Celtic belief system and the Christian faith, to be a bridge between the two branches. It could have worked if the Christian belief system had not already been so distorted by the people/church and there was not so much intolerance on all sides. When the Celtic priests saw how the Christian priests did not respect the Great Goddess, who is none other than our beloved Neadonia - how they cut down the sacred trees to build churches there, condemned the divine expression of sexuality, there was then no room for tolerance, although it must be said that the Celts were more open to the Christian teachings than the other way around.

The Christian priests also had no tolerance, and they accused the Celtic priests of being sorcerers and godless witches. Both parties claimed to have leased the truth, and they had no room in their minds and hearts for the idea of ONE God, with a male and female aspect in perfect balance. On the Christian side there was so much greed for power, the dogma grew and grew, and so by the time of Arthur's incarnation the train had almost sailed and with it the optimum that could have been achieved. So only the minimum goal remained. To achieve this, Arthur needed a Christian woman at his side. If he had married a Celtic priestess, the mission would have been endangered.

The Christian Gwenhwyfar had a powerful influence on Arthur, he honored her greatly, and so it came to pass that Arthur stood up for Christ, even though he also wore the snake tattoos of the goddess.

The snakes are a symbol of the Order of the Great Goddess, but you can also find them in the Order of Isis, and Mary Magdalene also wore them, for she was a priestess of the Order of Isis when she took her place at the side of Christ Immanuel, whom you call Jesus. The snakes also symbolize the Kundalini energy, which is a very powerful tool. The church teachings put the serpent as the seduction of Eve, - so, sharing DNA may have something to do with Kundalini energy, - but nothing to do with sin in general. They merely passed it on to Eve and then generalized it, as a vile tool of separation between man and woman.

When I was initiated as Arthur in this previous incarnation, I also had to undergo the ritual of the "Great Marriage" with the earth. As a symbol of this initiation, I received the snake tattoo on my wrist. Because of these snakes, the Christian people put pressure on me, because I had promised to serve the followers of the Celtic faith as well as the followers of the Christian faith. They did not publicly call me a sinner, as happened to Magdalene at Jesus' side - who was called a whore - but it would be an illusion to believe that certain people would NOT have given me titles that were anything but friendly.

I was not able to maintain the balance, although I worked hard to try. When I realized that the time had come for a decision, I decided to put greater emphasis on Christian teachings so that CM's mission would not evaporate. This is how many people remember Arthur: they see him as the Christian king who helped spread the Christian faith.

There were, of course, forces bent on revenge. So it was arranged that I had a son from the ritual of the Great Marriage, born of my idolized sister Morgaine, the priestess of Avalon.

Certain forces also arranged for my wife Gwen to be denied children - by a real act that sprang from a lower spirit - she was not granted to bring a single baby into being. These arrangements came from the Celtic lineage, but the Christian priests, of course, called it "God-willed." Truly, this was not an "act of God," merely the earthly expression of resistance from the mother religion, which was doomed to "freeze." Finally, my life ended at the hands of my one and only son, who did not have enough discernment to realize how he was being used as an instrument of murder against his own father. They told him I had broken the promise I had made to Avalon. Well, I just co-created my reality and did what I thought I had to do. The goal was still to strengthen the Christian faith and I fulfilled that. Deciding FOR something usually means deciding AGAINST something else at the same time. Even my death at the hands of my son contributed to weakening the legacy of the Celtic faith.

Please see, Christ and Nebadonia are ONE. They represent the male and female aspects. One cannot evolve if it cuts off the other aspect.

THE GOAL IS THE FUSION OF THE FEMALE AND THE MASCULINE ASPECTS OF RELIGION

It was a mistake of the Celtic faith to overemphasize the feminine part and was a mistake of man in spreading the Christian religion to condemn and split off the feminine aspect. Healing both means taking the lost aspects out of quarantine, honoring them again as the divine aspects they truly are.

Finally, over the centuries, the Christian faith has been stabilized. What is happening now is the re-addition of the female aspects, which must be recognized and honored. No man can be born through a man. It is always the woman who gives birth to a child. To deny the feminine aspect is to deny the chalice of one's origin. The future on this planet will no longer have room for such denials. Either you realize this, dear ones, or you leave this theater. This planet is going and striving towards completion, this is the time of great revelations and acceptance.

Coming back to my incarnation as Arthur of Great Britain - or as he was also called - Arthur Pendragon - I was very grateful to all the dear Starseed Souls who helped me to achieve the goal. They were wisely placed in their incarnational roles to ensure the best possible success. At this point I express my deepest gratitude to the loved ones who have supported me in this mighty mission of incarnation, to the dear knights at my site - many of whom are still incarnated in earth missions - as well as to my former wife, mother, sister, the Merlin of Britain (St. Germain) and all other humble service bearers, accept my deepest thanks. It was handed down that King Arthur brought peace and unified the land. So, let's say I just did my best, together with the team.

What I ask of you all now is that you also do your best for the "minimum goal" on which the focus now rests.

The MINIMUM GOAL IS THE MERGING OF RELIGIONS. What God has joined together, what He intended to bring together in unity, the masculine and feminine in balance, shall no longer be separate. You must join hands and hearts to unite what belongs together. This is the time when religions are uniting again to form the one great truth of the Christ. Until now, the Christ teachings offered by the churches have only given a very small piece of the whole pie. The Celtic cross looks very similar to the balanced Christ cross. Think about it!

IT IS UP TO YOU TO GIVE RELIGION A NEW FACE.

First comes knowledge, then comes action.

THIS IS THE TIME TO COMPLETE THE MISSION OF "KING ARTUS" AND TO COMPLETE THE MISSION OF CHRIST.

Thanks for listening,

this is El Morya,

ascended master of the Blue Ray.

Now here's Adama again.

You see, it's not just the mists of Avalon, it's more about the mysteries of Avalon. Avalon is a 5D aspect, a kind of portal. It was closed for security reasons, but with the rising consciousness it will be opened again. It is up to humanity to open the heart again and let the mysteries of Avalon integrate again. Some of you can even already perceive the etheric crystal cities, and likewise Avalon will become more "touchable" again.

Mysticism tells about the many apple trees of Avalon. Avalon was a source of wisdom and here we come back to what your Bible tells us Eve tasted - the apple. The apple has become a symbol of consciousness, of wisdom and knowledge. And therefore the Church emphasizes the "sin" of Eve and blames her for her need to learn and know.

In plain language:

Never ever would Christ have instructed Adam and Eve to remain ignorant. This idea alone seems ridiculous to those who have already experienced the closeness and concern of the loving parenthood of Christ and his female counterpart. Parents want their children to learn and grow up. Keeping one's children stupid, bound to parents and uneducated - has nothing to do with divine aspects - only with selfishness and greed for control and power.

Now what about the background of the apple tree story?

In fact, in the "garden" of Adam and Eve, there was a special tree planted with fruits that served the mission of Adam and Eve. When they had to leave the garden, they were not allowed to take the tree with them. The result was aging and mortality.

Again, it is not a sin to strive for education. Rather, it is a sin NOT to seek learning. Seeking wisdom will never be punishable. However, there are problems when a "knowledgeable" person passes on wisdom to people who are not yet ready to handle it. Compassion is not enough to justify this. This was Eve's failure, that she passed on her DNA to people who were NOT READY for it, and so she broke the contract.

But all of us in the know have learned from what has happened. Urantia is a unique place - and hopefully, thanks to what we have learned here - there will never be another planet in this universe that is in so much trouble. Christ has provided a "happy ending" for you - and as always, this "ending" is synonymous with a new beginning. There will be a time when the documentation of history will be officially corrected. This will be one of the first actions taken, because conclusions are drawn from incorrect documentation that do not serve. And likewise, inferences from true history can be highly useful.

Revealing the history in truth - which is not distorted by man - is an absolute "must" for the development in the direction of Christ Michael's Goal. This goal is now a Go for All. The solution book is included in the book of historical questions. The "Apple of Knowledge" is now offered to each and every one of you, whether your name is Adam or Eve or whatever. Once you understand, you can make this whole planet a planet of apple trees.

The Holy Spirit has been poured out upon this world, and therefore, beloved ones, see that you prove yourselves worthy of Him, as recipients of this heavenly blessing. Contribute to the merging of religions, male and female aspects, on the road to home and unity. Start from yourselves.

What keeps you from living these aspects? Do you still have homework to do? The whole picture consists of myriads of small facets of the individual beings. Merge your masculine and feminine aspects. Live your love. Do not sacrifice yourselves. Still a long way to go, you say? Take the first step and then one by one.

Keep moving, dear ones, and keep planting apple trees!

Eat as much as you can of the best apple variety available, the "CM Special" (grins).

Adam & Eve "Jonagold"

I press you to my heart,

this is Adama.

1st of May 2009

the apple tree that grew for you and me....

25.2 THE REAL STORY OF ADAM AND EVE

SUMMARY BY EVE

When I was still at the very beginning and "mentally devoured" the Telos books, I found in one of them the indication that the real story of Adam and Eve was quite different from what we are told by religion and the Bible. (This Bible story is actually a slap in the face of the real Adamic couple; it degrades the majesty of divine beings to the primitiveness of a rib, of nakedness and a fig leaf. It reduces the Eternal Father to a "bouncer." And "Eve's sin" then becomes a justification by which generations of women are reduced to a problem and mistreated for millennia). It was promised that Aurelia would do a channelling about it with Adama, but that never happened. In the course of time I found out what it is all about and also realized that - if I don't tell it in connection with Adama - probably nobody will take up the matter. There is a source where this story is published in full detail (www.urantia.org), but there the connection with Adama of Telos is not made. After many hours of working with Adama, I asked him about it at some point, and when you ask Adama, you actually always get an answer. Adama was - and still is - the planetary Adam, who was sent here to the planet with his cosmic complement Eve after a long selection procedure of the divine hierarchy, in order to compensate deficits and to be a role model in terms of civilization and a messenger of God for the original planetary inhabitants. This mission was based on a cosmic contract, the background of which I do not want to go into detail now, because that would go beyond the scope. That Adama was the planetary Adam, I did not know at the beginning. At the end of the first mentioned, long session from the still following piece "Adama's Shakuhachi" I asked him directly out of an inspiration and he affirmed. I will now summarize the story for you and then add a conversation I had with Adama on this subject.

First of all, I have to clear up the claim that Adam and Eve were the first humans God created, or the first humans on this planet. The planet already had a civilization that was troubled by dark forces, so Adam and Eve could be called the first HIGHER UNIVERSAL HUMANS to settle here, HU-MANS. The planet was under dark leadership within the framework of a "rebellion", which was labeled as Lucifer rebellion, whereby also here as so often already "the winner wrote history" and urgently needed a strengthening by highly developed cosmic beings. There is in the universe the son order of the "life-bringers" who are called "Adams and Eves". As a pair, they are each divine complements and are always sent together to planets that have need. They work on the sphere of Jerusem. Before such a couple was sent here, there were people who knew about it down here. These people did not know when the couple would arrive, but they actively prepared everything for it, in this case it was a man named Van, firmly anchored in his knowledge. The paradise that is always spoken of was logically located on this planet itself. The location that was selected as the first choice was in the eastern Mediterranean. It was a peninsula (now long submerged) through which the river Eden flowed and emptied into the sea. This peninsula was secured on the mainland side by a wall, which was supposed to prevent the then wild tribes from invading the "paradise". In our modern language, we would say that a "community" was created there. In the center, the "Temple of the Eternal Father" was built, there were dwellings for servants, and dwellings for the divine couple and their offspring. When the couple finally arrived, they brought with them from their home base the legendary Tree of Life, which was planted in the courtyard of the temple.

Adam and Eve could nourish themselves from physical food, however, also exclusively or also additionally by light. They ate 1 x a day at noon, and purely vegan. The appearance of Adam and Eve was characterized by the radiation of light, which was visible through the clothing mainly around the head and on the hands. This is the origin of the "halos" depicted in ancient paintings.

Adam and Eve had come as teachers. They gave this civilization cultural values, an alphabet, writing, games and humor. One soul regularly came into incarnation with them each year, with the children later marrying among themselves as adults and founding a dynasty. (Who else could they have married, they were forbidden to associate with the natives). Adam and Eve, as well as their descendants, were also immortal; among those around them, the impression was that this had to do with the fact that they would eat of the fruit of the tree in the temple. Near the garden there were villages with native tribes that benefited from the Garden of Eden.

This functioned quite well for the 100 years, however, Adam and Eve could remember their origin by the density prevailing here more and more badly. So it came that doubts crept in with Eve, everything seemed to go forward much too slowly and the dark guidance of the planet set here the foot in the door. To make a long story short: Eve believed it would be beneficial to link her DNA directly to the natives. In plain English, she betrayed Adam in good faith with the tribal leader Kano. This was a breach of contract that, according to universal laws, would cause Eve to lose her privileges and be separated from Adam. When Adam realized what had happened, he deliberately committed the same breach of contract by giving his DNA to the native woman Laotta. Thus, it can be said that Eve acted in good faith, while Adam deliberately committed the sin so as not to be separated from Eve. Eve and Kano's child was the legendary Cain, who later slew his brother Abel, who was Adam and Eve's next child together. Because of Eve's misstep, an inferno arose. The inhabitants of the Garden of Eden fell upon the village of which Kano was the tribal leader and wiped it out completely. When this became known, tribes gathered to move against the Garden of Eden. Thus, Adam and his family had to flee from the Garden of Eden, and move to a place that had once been chosen as an alternative to the first garden as the second Garden of Eden. The Garden of Eden was devastated when the tribes arrived, and the temple was burned down, along with the famous Tree of Life. The second garden was located in Mesopotamia between the Euphrates and Tigris rivers. When the inhabitants heard that the high priest of Eden was approaching, they all fled and Adam found the land cleared. However, they had to start from scratch, since nothing was prepared here. On the way to the second garden, Adam and Eve were called to account by the cosmic overseers. They were deprived of sonship and their cosmic privileges because of their breach of contract and they were given the status of "ordinary people". Also, all minor children were taken away from them and brought to their cosmic home sphere. All other descendants of theirs were free to choose whether to stay or come along. Since the damage was already done, Adam later decided to pass on his DNA to as many natives as possible until he and Eve died a human death. Thus the basis of the "violet race" was created, which was later also called a race beginning with "A", whose mention cannot be made here, because of the circumstances. Only this much about it: the carriers of this DNA are tall, blond and light-skinned. After this incarnation, Adam and Eve meanwhile received back their sonship status, directly from the "boss", our Creator of this local universe, Creator Son of the Eternal Father. They are now back in the Council of this planet, serving as the High Priestly Couple of Telos.

ADAMA TALKS ABOUT EDEN

"BEYOND EDEN"

I'm meeting Adama in the lounge of the ship ATLAS. (This is one of the ships the inner earth people were evacuated to, due to the risk of approaching earth changes and the magnetic pole reversal) I've been here before. Adama wears his simple white T-Shirt, like mostly on his meetings with me. His hair surrounds his face like a halo. His open smile in his look out of big blue eyes couples with an irresistible and loving smile on his lips. „Sweety“, he welcomes me with warm joy in his voice.

„Daddy!“

We hug each other. Then he lays his arm around my shoulders, leading me to an oversized Big Sofa where we take a seat.

„New topic“, I start. „In Germany we now have a car called „Adam“.

Adama laughs. „And every female driver feels like Eve?“

„You mean, driving Adam in his ruin?“

„Giving him a direction, perhaps.“

„Would you mind taking direction into times of Adam and Eve?“

„Oh my, Sweety! You want memories to become alive again?“

„If you don't mind.“

Adama takes a deep breath and leans himself back, stretching his body.

„These were challenging times...“ Adama sighs. „Look into my eyes and imagine how I looked back then. You refer to me as Adam.“

I see him even taller than now, every part divine. Not hard to understand how people felt driven to adore him on the basis of his majesty. I also have a flash back to when his body started to age, to be bowed with sorrow – nearing the end of his incarnation.

I remember Eden.... this paradise on the planetary peninsula reaching into the east of the mediterranean sea.... I remember my Dad, my Mom.... my brothers and sisters... the big gardens ... in sunnier days ... and I'm curious about what Adam will tell on remembering these ancient days... sitting on the shore of the NOW and having a seat in the planetary council of this planet.

„Can you imagine, Eve, how a descending son forgets about his origin? Memories just vanish. Fade out,... you know. Success was slow. Or as you would say, eternity can get really long. I have always had broad shoulders, but this was more than just „shit happens“.

Your adored and beloved wife tells you that she is pregnant from a man beyond Eden, you get aware that the working contract was broken, and when rumors spread, your people – in whom you had set so much hopes – just go and slaughter a complete village, just because of the fact that Eve's lover was living there – men, women and children.

I was becoming bitterly aware that brothers from a parallel sonship of our father CM would not let there be any room to us for mercy after a broken contract – and that my wife would be regarded as a fallen sinner by them, meaning probably separation of her and me. I had to overcome myself and commit the same „sin“, so that I'd appear „guilty“, too, so that we might share our fate.

Then we left Eden, which felt like leaving our home, and not only OUR home, we knew that we had taken home away from our kids, and grand kids.... forcing them to leave for another territory that still had to be cultivated by hard work, so that we could save our lives and still be of any use to our creator, instead of becoming pulled into a war by relatives of the murdered inhabitants of the village near Eden, who had already reached out to attack us for reasons of revenge.

Finally the sky darkened from the ships of the returning Melchisedek trustees. Eve and me had already made up our mind about the consequences of our failure, but what they announced was more terrible than what we had imagined to foresee.

At first we were told about the loss of our sonship. I could hardly trust my ears. Which loving father and creator of a universe would ever cast out his son and daughter? I was asking this question to the Ms, ... They seemed to have faces of stone when they answered me: „It has been decreed like that from the upper hierarchy of Orvonton, Lord Siraya.“

At least, Eve and me knew that our beloved father had not pushed us away from his heart.

But then, the next terrible step came ... tearing families apart. (He bows his head into his hand) You and Adamson still had very young kids. I saw terror striking on your heart, beloved Evora, and on Adamson, who loved you so dearly. Now – no mother with a loving heart will leave her kids, and so you joined the group leaving with the craft of the Ms – for returning to Jerusem. When the Ms finally left, everything was a battlefield of chaos, tears and broken hearts. They had come down like hawks of a far away spiritual upperclass hierarchy and when they left, everything was a greater mess than before.

I had always told my big family that love, mercy and forgiveness are guaranteed by our heavenly father – and now they stood in front of Eve and me, asking with tears in their eyes:

WHERE WAS LOVE WHEN THE MELCHISEDEKS CAME?!

And all I could answer to them was:

I DON'T KNOW.

(Eve, 2021: I don't want to mess with the fans of the Melchisedek son order at this point. The fact is, this planet still has Machiventa Melchisedek as planetary administrator of the etheric plane, however, it must be said that Machiventa is not a typical representative of his teacher son order, I have already been in telepathic contact with him and he is really all right. According to my information there had been a certain infiltration in the universe with this son order which was not in the sense of the creator. More I do not want to go into it now).

Don't ask me, Eve, where I took the power from to go on and build a second garden. To go on leading the clan. It was terrible, too, seeing Eve's son Cain – whose father Cano had been Eve's „lover“ and who now lay dead – murdering his brother Abel...maybe this was a test if I would push him away from me ... but I did not.

Eve, and every little bit of encouraging success was so slow. How many nights did I occupy my mind with questioning how my beloved heavenly father Christ Michael – not sovereign by this time – was in pain about knowing what the Ms had told us. And I thought... MY ... it's JUST A CONTRACT .... A contract on a quarantined world of matter ... so WHAT! On one hand it's true: Rules shall serve the development of mankind, but if exceptions cannot be made and man becomes a slave to the rules, rejecting the attorney of love.... WHOM DOES IT TRUELY SERVE?!

Absence of mercy and love, Eve, are forming a downward spiral away from the creator. Looking into the faces of the Ms I was able to maintain my composure, but inside I was crying, as I saw things derailing and going totally wrong. At least I still had my beloved mate Eve, but it tortured my heart to see the remnants of all these families where wives and children had been „forced“ to leave, out of „free will“, of course.

Christ Michael once appeared in a dream to me, telling me that he'd still regard me as his beloved son, and that finally Eve and me would receive our sonship back. I then had another adamic mission with Eve in Lemuria, and thanks to CM were allowed to have you as our daughter again. Since I felt the absence of love with the Ms, I'm even more prepared to make love a living ingredient to everything. Yes, CM has gifted us again with the status „Descending sons“ – as he is now sovereign and a lot is moving.

I love you, Eve, for your dedication and discernment, ... for your courage and righteousness. Hope that someday the Ms will be able to see these valuable virtues, too.“

„I feel that this sequence of events left deep trauma in many,“ I comment. „Including myself, as I was a witness.“

Adama nods seriously. „Yes, Eve. This is certainly so. Many of us remaining down here were not able to recover for a very long time.

Truely, the Ms had returned even earlier and I had asked them for advice, just to find them rejective and cold as ice and lacking any empathy. The ship meeting us on the road to the second garden was a seraph transport and when we saw Gabriel of Salvington announcing the consequences we were very much aware of the fact that everything was cemented without the slightest chance to discuss.

I still remember my eyes glued to Gabriel announcing the facts and I felt somehow that he was not happy to do this. Of course, nobody seemed to be happy at all, but I sensed that he was following some kind of dictation leaving him no choice. Of course had we heard of the consequences even before starting our mission, and looking back on what happened – in full knowing that none of us ever had intended to break the contract intentionally – I found that there had been indeed room for a merciful interpretation in regard of the consequences. But this remained a thought and was never spoken out officially, – up to this day here when I'm now telling you about. We willingly bowed and did not try in any way to defend ourselves. We were lucky indeed not being declared guilty of joining a rebellion, which would have been ridiculous indeed, but still thinkable. What kept us going was trust in the fact that our beloved creator Christ Michael might know about the big mourning in our hearts.“

„And how about casting out your sonship? There was stated it was some kind of automatism resulting from your failure.“

„I thought to know the process very well, as we were life bringer sons – the only order of CM's sonships being gifted with the process of creation – while all other orders of sons were of administrative sorts, or teachers, like the Ms. In our Jerusem experiences before we had studied the process of creation into detail and were pretty much aware of how our material bodys were fed by the energetic strings. Interruption of this process influencing the material body was not a kind of automatism resulting from an interpretative failure, but something triggered by mixing the pure divine energy with a different sort of energy from planetary mates like Cano or Laotta. But this would just have influenced our incarnation, not our sonship in general. Before we had been permanent citizens of Jerusem – as direct sons of the creator – and this was lost, or declared lost – we were moved into a different „stream“ so to say, – downgraded – to change our status from descending sons to ascending sons. As far as I know – this has remained the only case ever happening like that in this local universe, and later many universal personalities secretly signalized to Eve and me that they charged this downgrading and change of status as something very hard and inadequate and especially as nothing our creator would ever have decreed out of a need felt by his heart.

The fact that he was not yet sovereign was the only explanation matching a decision which he had to sign, but which seemed to be „forced“ upon him. In the universe nothing ever is a oneway street. The UB states that the loss of the sonship by breaking the contract was an automatism and inevitable, and this is best suited to be „bought“ by people whose inner eyes are not yet fully open and heavy from a long sleep. But to a discerning reader it must seem strange, especially when finding that even the person Lucifer – indicted to be the originator of a terrible rebellion – was never cast out in regard of his sonship.

You know, Eve, down on Urantia there are questions which must not be asked and as below, so above. When Eve and me lost our sonship due to an unintentional failure which we deeply regretted – how can it then happen that the so called leader of a rebellion can remain in his sonship .... the answer would either be inconsequence by the upper spiritual hierarchy – or otherwise a secret which is kept very carefully.... which could be something like a big hidden complot against CM and Lucifer trying to reveal it, while the strings of the rebellion might even have been pulled by infiltrated higher forces, blaming Lucifer for it, behind the back of his father – using a mask of mercy and taking advantage from letting Lucifer keep his sonship – so that everybody would know about the fact, that a very innovative Michael Son had resulted to have such a „rotton“ son, an image which would even more downgrade the Father of Nebadon himself.“

„Adama, this is more than spooky, and if intrigues of this big sorts have been injected into the foundings of Nebadon there is no other way than to get that up to the surface. This rotten fish will continue to stink, more and more, until its' mean odour can be smelled on every energetic hallway of this local universe. I declare I will not stop until truth has been proclaimed – real truth – not faked one supported by deleted archives etc. And I apply to Papa Source to support us in cleansing and clearing up things ... perhaps it would do good to Siraya changing his sonship into an ascending stream, starting again on worlds of matter.“

“Pay attention, take care, Eve“, Adama warns me. „This seems to be David fighting Goliath. But your flag is clean and your intention is pure, and David succeeded finally. Big S would tell you that it's not worth risking everything for protecting „a meaningless creation at the wild west peripherals of the Great Universe“, but as I know you, you'd counter to him that love to your father CM is thicker than blood.“

„Yes, Daddy, I think so. Thank you for sharing your thoughts so openly.“

„Do with it what you think is right. Don't expect too much, but indeed, sometimes wonders do happen.“

„Ok, I think now I understand what it means to be „East of Eden“.

„The goal is to make this planet an Eden all over, and then continue to make „Nebadon an Eden of the Universe“.

„Yes, Adama, I have been one with the Eternal Father and I will not cease to serve his will to make love and light triumphant and superior over any intent of mean destruction.“

We hug and for a glimpse of a moment it seems that we are back in Eden – in the golden rays of the morning sun caressing the branches of the tree of life growing in the yard of the TEMPLE OF THE ETERNAL FATHER.

26. What Are The Phoenix Journals?

Many people have asked us what the PHOENIX JOURNALS are. They contain the true history of mankind on this planet as well as detailed information about the most asked about and wondered about subjects (i.e., Spirituality, E.T.s, our origin, our purpose here on this planet, etc.). Commander Hatonn and the other Higher Spiritual Teachers who have authored these JOURNALS, weave spiritual lessons and insights throughout the unveiling of lies which have been deceptively forced upon us, throughout time, by the Elite anti-Christ controllers. These JOURNALS are the "DEAD SEA SCROLLS" of our time. Their importance in the growth of mankind cannot be overstated. They are the textbooks of understanding which God promised us we would have, to guide us through the "End Times".

Here is what Commander Hatonn has said about the PHOENIX JOURNALS. Quoting from JOURNAL #40, THE TRILLION DOLLAR LIE, Vol.II, pgs. 47 & 48: "Some day in the far recesses of the future experiences of another human civilization—these JOURNALS will be found and TRUTH will again be given unto the world manifest so that another lost civilization can regain and find its way. God always gives His creations that which they need when the sequence is proper. It is what man DOES WITH THESE THINGS which marks the civilization. WHAT WILL YOUR LEGACY BE????? I focus on current activities which might turn your world about in time to save your ecosystems and your sovereignty as nations and peoples. You cannot wait to be filled in on the lies of the generations lest you wait until too late to take control of your circumstance presently within the lies. YOU ARE A PEOPLE OF MASSIVE DECEPTION AND WHAT YOU WILL DO WITH THIS INFORMATION IN ACTION DETERMINES YOUR PURPOSE AND GROWTH IN THIS WONDROUS MANIFESTED EXPERIENCE—WILL YOU PERISH PHYSICALLY OF THE EVIL INTENT, OR WILL YOU MOVE INTO AND WITHIN THE PLACES OF HOLY CREATOR? THE CHOICE IS YOURS."
